SENATE BEGINS TREATY WORK

WILSON CHEERED BY OREGON THRONGS

PRESIDENT SPEAKS AT PORTLAND TONIGHT

Sixty Mile Auto Tour Puts Executive Close to the People of North

TWO BIG RECEPTIONS GIVEN PARTY IN CITY

County Fair Grounds Visited and Wilson Is Guest at Noon Luncheon

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 15.—President Wilson today got "close to the people" at many Oregon towns near Portland. The president's motor procession; a long line of automobiles led by a pilot machine flying a huge American flag, sped over a route of nearly 60 miles.

Invasions of little communities were made and the road was lined with spectators. Passing through these places the President's automobile slowed down so Wilson had a chance to acknowledge the greetings of many. At Crown Point, a height overlooking the Columbia river, Wilson stopped a few minutes to look at the view and shake hands with scores who filed by with cars. En route back to Portland the president was taken to the county fair grounds and made one circuit of the race track while the crowds applauded.

There were cries of "speech" but Wilson shook his head and the flying column of autos moved on.

Crowds Near Hotel

Upon his arrival at the Portland hotel after the tour, the president attended a luncheon given by C. S. Jackson, publisher of the Oregon Journal. Dense throngs were packed on both sides of the street near the hotel and Wilson in his second entrance into the city received a greeting that was more enthusiastic than the one that marked his first appearance this morning.

In front of the hotel the police had difficulty in clearing a way for the president's automobile. After the luncheon Wilson planned to rest all afternoon, dine privately and speak at 8 p. m.

Wilson was late in arriving at Portland. The special presidential train was scheduled to reach Portland from Seattle at 5 o'clock and lie in the local yards four hours before the nation's leader set foot on Oregon soil for the first time. However, it didn't arrive in the city until 9 a. m.

Portland is noisy and Ridgefield, Wash., 23 miles to the north, is a very quiet place. So the special train was held during the early morning at Ridgefield, where there were only roosters to disturb the slumber of the president and his retinue.

Seattle Demonstration
Wilson's departure from Seattle last night was marked by a demonstration in which cheering people lined the streets along several blocks of the route from the hotel to the railway station. The president stood up in his car during a portion of the ride, flourishing his hat in a characteristic gesture in response.

The president, when he enters California, is expected to get more information with regard to the projected strike in protest against the imprisonment of Thomas J. Mooney, labor leader convicted of implication in the preparedness parade bomb explosion in San Francisco in 1916.

James A. Duncanson and other Seattle labor leaders informed the president of their version of the conditions leading up to the projected strike and told him, it was understood, that unrest would make it difficult to avoid it. Wilson broke his long established

Will Spur Congress Into Action As Flu Cases Grow

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—With some cases of influenza reported by the United States public health service, efforts will be made this week to spur congress into taking steps to prevent a general recurrence of the disease.

Representative Fess, Ohio, who has introduced a bill providing for government investigations in the hope of finding a cure for the plague, is planning to point out to the house this week the great danger of congressional inactivity. His bill has been slumbering in a committee for several months.

FIUME INCIDENT TO HURT CAUSE OF ITALY

ROME, Sept. 14.—The latest reports from Fiume state that the situation arising from the entrance into the city of Gabriele D'Annunzio's force continues to be serious. Premier Nitti announced in the chamber of deputies, "I am filled with humiliation," Nitti said, "because for the first time sedition has entered the Italian army. I also feel humiliation for the sincere apologies I shall make to the Allies. If our Adriatic aspirations are opposed, it is chiefly because of the belief that Italy is imperialistic. The Fiume incident will injure our cause. Persons advocating the acts against France and the United States, without whose aid Italy cannot recover, are lunatics and traitors. Italy is no longer in a position to tolerate a policy of adventure without being brought into a state of anarchy."

The offenders at Fiume will be prosecuted, Nitti announced.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—The state department today received official dispatches from Consul Koblinger at Fiume, telling of the advance of Gabriele D'Annunzio and his Italian troops on the city.

Fiume shops are closed, it was said, both in protest of the conditions there and in fear of damage when the Italian troops reach the city. No damage has been done so far.

D'Annunzio's Meeting With Gen. Pittaluga Is Dramatic

LONDON, Sept. 15.—Details of Gabriele D'Annunzio's arrival at Fiume and his dramatic meeting with General Pittaluga, who was commanding the city, are given in a dispatch from the Daily Chronicle's correspondent at Milan.

"By this you will ruin Italy?" asked Pittaluga in the dialogue that ensued between the two men.

"Rather you will ruin Italy," the poet replied, "if you oppose Fiume's destiny and support the infamous policy."

The general: "Then what do you wish?"

The poet: "A free entry into Fiume?"

The general: "I must obey orders." The poet: "I understand you would fire upon your brethren? Fire first upon me." (D'Annunzio bares his chest.)

The general, emotionally: "I am happy to meet you, brave soldier and grand poet. With you a cry 'viva Fiume!'"

Then all the soldiers joined in crying "viva Pittaluga."

D'Annunzio then entered the city, amid great rejoicings, the correspondent writes.

AMERICA'S HELP IN PALESTINE DISCUSSED

CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—The extent to which America must participate in restoring the Jewish home land—Palestine—was under discussion today at the twenty-second annual convention of Zionists of America.

Political conditions in Palestine and the situation with regard to Jews throughout Europe were considered.

REASON FOR PACT RUSH DECLARES JOHNSON

Senator Asserts Boosters Do Not Want People to Learn Truth

DEMONSTRATIONS NOT PERSONAL, HIS BELIEF

Arrives In Des Moines to Resume Fight on Treaty This Evening

By FRED S. FERGUSON

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

DES MOINES, Iowa, Sept. 15.—Having addressed between 40,000 and 50,000 men and women who cheered him vociferously during the first four days of his tour, Senator Johnson arrived here from Kansas City today to resume his fight on the peace treaty tonight.

"It is obvious from the response of the people to the issue I am presenting why the administration insists upon such haste in disposing of the treaty," said Senator Johnson. "Its proponents desire to have it hurriedly approved before our people can find out what it really means to them."

"The senate has had the treaty just two months, while the president spent seven months with it, while the European and Asiatic powers pieced their secret agreements together as the basis of the document now presented."

Demonstrations Not Personal

"I do not consider that there has been anything personal in the crowds or in the demonstrations that have marked the meetings. It is merely that what the great mass of the people have in their hearts has been expressed, and the response has been immediate."

Senator Johnson is keeping in touch with developments in the senate while on his tour. His amendment providing that the United States shall have as many votes as Great Britain in the league assembly is the first on the list for consideration when discussion of the foreign relations committee's report is opened. The senator understands, however, that this will be passed temporarily owing to his absence. It will then be taken up for debate and a vote upon his return.

NEW YORK OIL BLAZE MAY COST $5,000,000

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Raging fires, from which giant smoke clouds poured, still burned at the plant of the Standard Oil Company in Brooklyn today, where thirty tanks of oil and by-products already have been destroyed. With the fire under control, Assistant Fire Chief Martin said there was no way of stopping the flames, but firemen will guard other property to keep other tanks and buildings to prevent ignition. The damage, he said, might reach $5,000,000. The fire started shortly after noon Saturday.

GRIFFITH SAYS RAIDS ON IRISH MAKE VOTES

DUBLIN, Sept. 15.—Arthur Griffith, vice-president of the Sinn Fein, in an interview with the Daily Mail correspondent, declared Friday's raid conducted by the British authorities, "was worth a million votes to the Sinn Fein."

"England's game in America will be defeated," Griffith said. "Without America's assistance England cannot maintain the stand she has taken hitherto."

Wilson's Much Pleased With Receptions

"Fine Audience, Wasn't It?" He Declares

Plaudits of Throngs Greeted With Smiles

PRESIDENT WILSON is well satisfied with the manner in which the people are receiving his pleas for the treaty and League of Nations. Mrs. Wilson also is happy over the reception they are getting. Here are some pictures taken enroute to the west on the present trip. The top picture shows him saying to Mrs. Wilson after one of his meetings: "It was a fine audience, wasn't it, Edith?" Below he is acknowledging the plaudits of a crowd in the middle west.

LIE IS PASSED AT TELEPHONE HEARING

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 15.—The lie was passed today during a hearing by the State Railroad Commission into the increase recently allowed the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company under the so-called Burleson telephone rate schedule.

J. D. Shaw, attorney for the company, was giving a resume of the government's control and referred to the recent coastwise strike. He said wage increases had amounted to $3,000,000. H. T. Sutcliffe of the Telephone Users' Association, asked him what percentage of increase over the former wages that sum represented.

Sutcliffe had tried to organize telephone users during the strike. "I don't intend to be interrupted," said Shaw. "You are not here with clean hands."

"You are a liar!" shouted Sutcliffe. Shaw and Sutcliffe stood up threateningly.

"Cut that out," commanded Railroad Commissioner Edgerton. The hearing then proceeded.

Shaw said minor changes in the Burleson rate might be accepted but that the company wants to maintain the rate in general.

He said the company will make only 2.69-100 per cent upon its "rate basis valuation," under the increased rates, whereas, more than five per cent had been made in the past.

BANK CALL ANNOUNCED
WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—The controller of the currency today announced a bank call for condition of banks as of Friday, September 12.

Immigration Into Lower California Checked by Cantu

EL CENTRO, Sept. 15.—All Japanese and Chinese immigration into the northern district of Lower California is prohibited until the Mexican congress passes new immigration laws, under an order Governor E. Cantu of Lower California is reported to have made. The order, according to the advices reaching here today, was made a few days ago and was given to the public yesterday.

It is designed, the understanding here is, to relieve unrest in Lower California due to anxiety of the Mexican population over the sudden influx of Oriental laborers. Numerous disturbances of a more or less serious nature, have occurred during the last two years over the Oriental question. In the Imperial Valley the order is expected to have a good effect on the campaign to stop smuggling of Oriental labor across the border.

SEVENTEEN HUN SPIES ESCAPE FORT DOUGLAS

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Sept. 15.—From ten to seventeen German spies escaped from the compound at Fort Douglas early today.

Four men, believed to be some of the escaped enemy aliens, were captured before noon at Ogden. The Germans cut a hole in the wire fence forming the compound. The escape which, it is believed, was carefully planned, was discovered at 1 a. m. by a sentry.

Colonel George F. Byram, commandant of the prison, announced following an investigation, that from ten to seventeen German spies are missing.

GOMPERS TO GO OVER STRIKE SITUATION

BOSTON, Mass., Sept. 15.—It was reported in labor circles here today that Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, will take personal charge of the strike of members of the Boston policemen's union. This report is based, it was said, on the conference Gompers held with Frank H. McCarthy, representative of the A. F. of L. in New York yesterday.

Meetings of scores of unions throughout the city were held yesterday and it was said the unions voted on the sympathetic strike resolution of the Boston central labor union. It was impossible today, however, to learn the result of the voting. Ballots were sent to the central labor union headquarters for tabulation.

Nationwide Steel Strike Not Dropped, Say Officers

CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—Steel union officials of the Chicago district today discredited that the nation-wide steel strike set for September 22 had been called off.

"There is nothing to the report, so far as I know," said John R. De Young, secretary of the Chicago district. "We are all set for the strike and I doubt, even if it was decided to postpone action, we could restrain the men from striking."

ARGUMENT MAY LAST FOR SIX WEEKS

Senator Jones, New Mexico, Fires First Gun to Have Pact Ratified

WILL REMAIN SENATE BUSINESS UNTIL DONE

Austrian Treaty to Be Put Into Records by Senator Lodge Today

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—"I call up a treaty of peace with Germany."

With these words Senator Lodge chairman of the Foreign Relations committee today formally opened the discussion in the senate on the peace treaty as reported by the committee.

For the first time in the senate history a great treaty is being considered in open session before crowded galleries and instead of behind closed doors.

Immediately after Lodge had formally handed the treaty to the senate, the first gun in the barrage of speeches from the Democratic side of the chamber in favor of unqualified ratification was fired in a speech by Sen. Jones of New Mexico. He will be followed by Sen. Overman of North Carolina who will speak tomorrow also in favor of ratification.

From now until the final vote has been taken the treaty will remain the senate's unfinished business, taking precedence over everything else.

May Last Six Weeks

Sensors today estimated the debate will last four to six weeks.

Lodge put into the records a copy of the treaty with Austria with the allied note telling Austria to take the treaty just as it is written. Lodge said he was given his copy by a Chicago newspaper. He announced that late today he would have the Austrian treaty read.

The amendment first to be reached will be the one giving the United States the same number of votes as Great Britain in the league of nations. The vote on this change, which was adopted by the foreign relations committee, is expected to furnish a test as to whether any of the amendments can command a majority of the senate.

Reservations to the league of nations will not come until after the textual amendments are disposed of. On these there will be a different lineup.

While treaty opponents admit there is doubt about their ability to base amendments, they declare that reservations of some sort are certain. Whether these reservations will be mild or strong, they declare, depends upon the outcome of conferences now on between the mild reservationists and Senator Lodge, who is for those framed by the foreign relations committee.

New Strength Added

Treaty supporters today saw new strength added to their cause in a committee of 250 leading Republicans and Democrats, formed to bring about unqualified ratification.

The organization of this committee from prominent men of forty states was announced by the League to Enforce Peace.

The statement of the league which accompanied the announcement declares that "our land requires" immediate ratification and adds that the "world is put in imminent peril of new wars by the lapse of each day."

The organization is made up of many governors, state supreme court justices, professors and others.

Cook Is Favorite With Marine Corps Boys and Keeps Them All Smiling

Here's the cook providing joy for Marines

Good Eats Are Provided For Men Who See All Parts of the World

The spirit of cheerfulness and contentedness is an outstanding characteristic of the boys who are "first to fight."

The cook—"the man behind the man behind the gun"—is a very popular person in the Marine Corps or the Navy. The smiling faces of the Marines in the illustration show their contentedness, and also their expectations.

And "good eats" are the cause of it all, for in the Marine Corps they believe in feeding good, the old adage that to reach a man's heart is through his stomach, is lived up to, in this branch of the service.

When the bugler sounds the good old chow call you should see those Marines flock towards the mess hall, every man of them eager to get seated at those tables which are heaped up with the very best of good eats, and the pie and cake are there, too, don't forget.

The Marine Corps is still in need of good young men. Go to the nearest recruiting station and get in on these good eats, also the exceptional opportunity to travel to all parts of the world. They are yours for the asking. Uncle Sam pays the expenses.

DR. BUTLER RETURNS SACRAMENTO FRIEND

Dr. G. Butler has returned from Sacramento where he visited P. Michelson, managing director of the Golden West Motors Co. While there he witnessed demonstrations of the four wheel drive truck the company is manufacturing. The factory is working day and night on a large order of trucks for a South American mining concern, and also is developing a four-wheel drive tractor to be on the market this fall. It promises to be a wonder.

Dr. Butler will secure one for working his apple orchard at Harper—and he even plans on running it himself. Some tractor! say his friends, if he can run it.

Livesey's vulcanizing and retreading is guaranteed.

SANTA ANA FUND FOR TELEPHONE WORK LACKING

Only $83 of $273 Obligation Has Been Raised to Date

Members of the Chamber of Commerce who have been asked to contribute a dollar to the fund necessary for Santa Ana to pay her proportion of the expenses preliminary to the organization of a mutual telephone system in the county are urged to make response at once.

Practically every other telephone exchange in the county has met its obligation in full long ago. This city has just started its campaign to raise the money. Out of 800 letters sent out last week by Secretary Metzgar only $83 has been reported in response to the appeal for financial aid. The amount is not particularly an obligation of the Chamber of Commerce, for it is a matter that concerns every subscriber within the exchange district of Santa Ana. The company is organizing for the benefit of every one who has use for a phone, and contribution to the fund of $1 or more will be accepted by the Chamber whether the donor is a member or not.

Funds for conducting the preliminaries were arranged for by the directors of the mutual system apportioning to each district an amount equal to 10 cents for each telephone subscriber. Santa Ana's obligation is $273.

MEXICANS WILL HAVE GREATEST CELEBRATION

Two Day Observance, Tonight and Tomorrow, Honor of Independence Day

Celebrating the 109th anniversary of the independence of the Republic of Mexico, Mexican residents of Santa Ana and vicinity will join in a monster two-day joyfest, this evening and tomorrow, at Birch Park. The celebration is held under auspices of "La Junta Patriotica," "Liga Protectora," and the Pro-Patria club.

The first part of the celebration is set for Birch Park this evening at 8:30, with a Mexican band present to remain for tomorrow's big doings. Mayor J. G. Mitchell will address the big gathering tonight, and there will be some very interesting features typical of Mexico worth while seeing by the American people, who are cordially invited to attend.

An impressive event set for tomorrow is the raising of the American flag, while the band plays the National Anthem, and then the raising of the Mexican flag, with the Mexican anthem sung by the crowd.

At 10:30, a popular parade will be organized in front of the armory and will parade through the downtown streets, returning to the park where luncheon will be had. In the parade will be the Mexican band, decorated autos and bicycles, cowboys and other features.

Rev. J. C. Nava, pastor of the Mexican M. E. church, who has been largely instrumental in getting up the affair, and whose aim it is to bring the Mexicans and American people into more cordial relations, says the Mexicans endeavor, within their very small means, to give a demonstration of patriotism and loyalty to the United States in appreciation of the hospitality shown his people and the firm stand taken by America respecting the rights of others and the establishment of Democracy, Justice and Peace.

A cordial invitation is extended American people to attend the celebration festivities at Birch Park tonight and tomorrow.

ARKANSAS FARM MAY YET MAKE HIM RICH

County Park Custodian Going Back to See What Excitement Is All About

Through a trade "sight unseen," Fred Siefert may be winner big. He is going back to get a sight of the land he has never seen, and if it looks as good as he now thinks it will, he may have something worth while. Siefert may end up by having a lead and zinc mine all his own, who knows!

Siefert made the trade for the land some time ago. He had assurances that the land was good. It is in Carroll county, Ark., and consists of 80 acres. At the time he got it, Siefert thought it was just a piece of fair mountain farming land, no more.

Here two or three weeks ago a stranger stepped up to Siefert, and said: "Say, your name's Siefert, isn't it?"

Siefert was not ashamed to say that he was right in his surmise.

"You own some land back in Arkansas?"

Again Siefert admitted the truth.

"What'll you take for the mineral rights?"

That was the first that Siefert knew that the land had any mineral rights, and he decided to do a little parleying.

Finally, the stranger offered him more for a lead and zinc mining lease than the land had gone to Siefert as worth in the first place. Siefert held off from signing and soon other inquiries came to him asking for prices on that land.

Siefert thought it was about time for him to take a vacation and he applied at once to the Board of Supervisors for a two-months' leave of absence from his position as custodian of the county park. He has secured his leave, and on Friday of this week he departs for Carroll county, Ark. Mrs. Siefert will go on to Benton, Ill., to visit relatives. The length of Siefert's stay away from here will depend on what turns up when he gets sight of that eighty acres.

SEN. M'CUMBER FILES TREATY RESERVATIONS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—Changes in the peace treaty proposed by the senate foreign relations committee are "couched in a defiant, discourteous and overbearing manner and seem intended to express a jingoistic spirit that ought to be eliminated from American statesmanship," Senator McCumber of North Dakota, a Republican, declared in a dissenting report laid before the senate today.

McCumber headed his report as "Views of a Minority" and urged that his six reservations dated recently be adopted in lieu of those inserted by the foreign relations committee.

He took exception to the entire attitude of the Republican majority report.

Automobile insurance rates are to be reduced approximately 25 per cent of the rate now charged for fire, theft, collision and property damage protection.

LEAGUE TO HELP WITH WORK OF WORLD

By DR. FRANK CRANE.

1. What is the League of Nations?
A. A union of the strongest civilized nations formed at the conclusion of the great war.

2. What is its object?
A. First, to promote the Peace of the World by agreeing not to resort to war. Second, to deal openly with each other, not by secret treaties. Third, to improve international law. Fourth, to co-operate in all matters of common concern.

3. Does it presume to end war?
A. No more than any government can end crime. It claims to reduce the liability of war.

4. What will be done to any nation that makes war?
A. It will be boycotted and otherwise penalized.

5. How else will the probability of war be lessened?
A. By voluntary, mutual and proportionate disarmament; by exchanging military information, by providing for arbitration, by protecting each nation's territorial integrity and by educating public opinion to see the folly of war.

6. What else does the League propose to do for Mankind?
A. (1) Secure fair treatment for labor,

(2) suppress the White Slave Traffic, the sale of dangerous Drugs, and the traffic in War Munitions,

(3) control and prevent Disease,

(4) promote the work of the Red Cross, and

(5) establish International Bureaus for other Causes that concern the human race.

7. Who are to be Charter Members of the League?
A. The United States of America, Belgium, Bolivia, Brazil, British Empire, Canada, Australia, South Africa, New Zealand, India, China, Cuba, Czechoslovakia, Ecuador, France, Greece, Guatemala, Haiti, Hedjaz, Honduras, Italy, Japan, Liberia, Nicaragua, Panama, Peru, Poland, Portugal, Rumania, Serbia, Siam, Uruguay and the following states which are invited to accede to the covenant: Argentine Republic, Chili, Colombia, Denmark, Netherlands, Norway, Paraguay, Persia, Salvador, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, Venezuela.

8. What other nations may join?
A. Any self-governing State which will agree to the rules of the League, provided the League accepts it.

9. What Agencies will the League have?
A. (1) An Assembly, composed of representatives of all the member Nations,

(2) a Council of Nine,

(3) a Secretary-General,

(4) a Mandatory Commission, to look after colonies, etc.,

(5) a Permanent Commission, for military questions,

(6) various International Bureaus; such as the Postal Union, etc.,

(7) Mandatories.

10. What is a Mandatory?
A. Some one nation designated by the League to attend to the welfare of "backward peoples residing in colonies of the Central Empires, or in territories taken from them." This is to be a "sacred trust," and in selecting a mandatory the wishes of the people of the area in question shall be the principal consideration.

11. Does the League mean a Super-nation?
A. No. It interferes in no way with any Nation's Sovereignty, except to limit its power to attack other nations.

12. Can any Nation withdraw when it wishes?
A. Yes. The League is Advisory and Co-operative, not coercive.

13. Does the League put Peace above Justice and National Honor?
A. No. It puts Reason before Violence.

14. Does not the League take away the Constitutional right of Congress to declare war?
A. No. The League can advise war; Congress alone can Declare war.

15. Does it destroy the Monroe Doctrine?
A. Exactly the contrary. For the first time in history the other nations recognize the Monroe Doctrine; and extend it to all the world.

16. Does it not interfere with Treaty Making Powers of the United States?
A. No. It is a Treaty. We can make any Treaty we please.

17. Would we have had the Great War if we had had this League?
A. No. That War cost the world over 7,000,000 lives and 200,000,000,000 dollars.

18. Of what importance is the League?
A. It is the greatest deed of mankind in the history of the world.

19. Has not anyone a right to object to the League?
A. Yes. This is a free country. Any one has a right to any opinion he chooses.

20. Why is the League so bitterly opposed by a few?
A. Because, unfortunately, any Treaty or League must be made by the President, and a President is chosen by a political party and many members of the opposite Party think that they have a right to be consulted.

STRIKE OF GOLD SILVER MINERS IS ENDED

TONOPAH, Nev., Sept. 15.—Gold and silver mines of Tonopah and Divide reopened today, after having been closed several weeks by a strike.

An agreement which was advocated by Joseph Ford, federal mediator, was adopted in a referendum vote by the miners, the agreement winning by a six to one vote. The conservation group of miners regained complete control.

The agreement is a compromise suggested by Governor Boyle and Lord whereby all men return to work at the old scale, with recognition of committees of miners. The operators agreed to establish a commissary store to sell food and clothing at cost.

At the end of sixty days a conference will be held to consider the results and to form other plans to reduce the cost of living.

The settlement, it is explained, is in line with the new program outlined by President Wilson in dealing with railroad employees.

HE SCRATCHED MATCH THEN PANTS EXPLODE

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Sept. 15.—Burford McClellan is at his home suffering from painful burns today, but he knows he was wrong.

McClellan got his trousers saturated with gasoline while cleaning his automobile.

"Be careful," a friend warned him. "They won't burn," answered McClellan and he scratched a match on the time-honored locality, to prove it.

His trousers literally exploded. Quick work by his friends prevented serious burns.

GIVES DETAILS FOR SECURING LIBRARY

Sacramento Woman Discusses Plan For Establishing County Institution

A discussion in regard to the feasibility of establishing a county library in Orange county featured the Fourth District Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teachers' Association executive board meeting on Saturday afternoon at the Intermediate school. Mrs. G. H. Goodale of Anaheim, the Fourth District president, occupied the chair.

Several matters of importance came before the board.

Mrs. May Dexter Henshall of Sacramento, the school and county library organizer for California, gave a very complete presentation of the county library plan.

"The county library plan," said Mrs. Henshall, "began in 1909. The school libraries were greatly handicapped by lack of funds, and the city libraries catering only to the city and town people, the rural districts were almost entirely cut off from library privileges. The state library was unable to reach everyone, so in 1911 a law was passed enabling county boards of supervisors to tax the districts outside the towns and cities to enable these outside districts to avail themselves of the books in the state library. The headquarters of these county libraries are at the county seats, and wherever possible are in the courthouse, so that no rent need be paid. The towns having libraries are in no way affected, as they become a part of the county library system only by application for membership.

In 1911 and 1912 the school law was amended to let the schools become a part of the county library system. There are now 1700 schools in California that belong. The county school superintendents in session at Yosemite this summer declared this co-operation between the state and the schools the greatest advance in education in recent years."

As an example of the benefits to the schools, Mrs. Henshall cited Siskiyou county. There are 99 school districts in the county, and each district had available $30 for library funds each year. By pooling these funds, a sum of practically $3,000 was available for books, and through the county library each school, instead of having thirty dollars' worth of new books available each year, has at its disposal a $3,000 library of new books yearly.

Supplementary books of every variety, as well as maps, charts, globes and magazines are available through this system. Mrs. Henshall stated that in Siskiyou county each school has three magazines each month, the almost universal choice being The National Geographic, Popular Mechanics, and St. Nicholas.

Through the county library system are also obtainable for school use prints of the finest works of art, a large selection of Victrola records and a practically unlimited variety of stereoscopes.

Mrs. Henshall spoke of several unique spots where branches of the county libraries are located in out-of-the-way spots all over California. In a little town in Imperial county a box car has been converted into a library. In a country district in one of the northern counties, an abandoned chicken brooder in a farmer's backyard houses the books.

Miss Gleason, the Los Angeles county librarian, was present, and supplemented Mrs. Henshall's talk.

No action in regard to the establishment of the library was taken by the board, it being decided that a campaign of education was advisable first.

The hospital committee of the Fourth District, through Mrs. Violet, chairman, reported upon the progress of the efforts to establish a maternity room at the county hospital. The committee will place their plea before the board of supervisors tomorrow.

The October district meeting will be held in Santa Ana, upon the invitation of the city P. T. A. through its president, Mrs. John Clarkson.

8000 SHIPYARD MEN QUIT AND LOSE JOBS

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Eight thousand shipyard workers who "automatically" established the 44-hour-per-week schedule Saturday by quitting at noon, found themselves without jobs when they reported for work today in Brooklyn. Employers declared the men had automatically resigned by their action Saturday and announced all strikers would be paid off this afternoon.

The trouble arose when the shipyard workers demanded the 44-hour working week with Saturday afternoon off. Their demands were refused by shipyard owners. The men then declared a strike for every Saturday afternoon. The owners announce they are filling the vacant places with other workmen. The unions started picketing today and called a meeting to decide further action against strike-breakers.

COMPERS TO ACT IN POLICEMEN'S STRIKE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, returned to Washington today to talk with other federal officials regarding the proposed steel strike and the Boston police strike.

At the federation headquarters, it was announced that Gompers would issue no statement until he has had a chance to go over the ground with officials here.

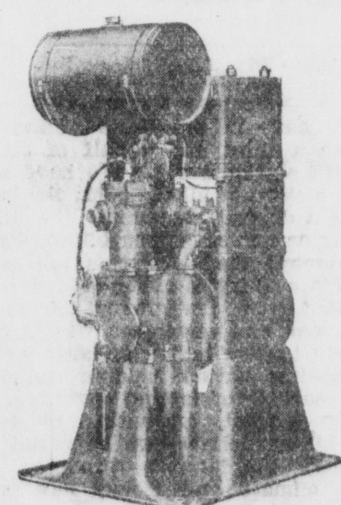

Despite Gompers' silence, reports that the proposed steel strike would be called off at least until the October 6th labor conference, were generally credited by American labor leaders and government officials.

Gompers, until he was called away last week, was in attendance at all conferences of the twenty-four steel union heads and it was not until the day after he left here that the announcement of the strike for September 22 was made.

EXCESSIVE EXPORTS

Evidence accumulates that in the export trade which was so great a cause of satisfaction in the early war years, the American people have been having too much of a good thing. The latest, and perhaps most trustworthy, witness in this matter is the Federal Reserve Board, which ought to understand American financial conditions if anybody does.

The board declares that exports have had more to do with causing high prices than has currency inflation.

The great volume of exports, the board explains, "has given rise to a situation which is conveniently described as a 'favorable' balance of trade because of the large excess of goods exported above those imported, leaving a resulting balance of indebtedness to be met."

"Looking at the matter from the point of view of the ordinary American consumer, however, the effect of such a 'favorable' balance of trade is far from favorable for him. Buying by the American consumer in competition with the export demand undoubtedly has been a major cause of rising prices in the post-war period in the United States."

Strong corroborative evidence is found in the fact that goods whose prices have risen most in this country are precisely the kinds of goods exported in greatest volume, namely, foodstuffs.

Contrary to the usual American attitude, therefore, there is considerable satisfaction expressed because such exports have fallen off in the last two months. This decrease may have been the leading factor in checking the rise of prices. Then along comes the government campaign against profiteering, followed by the new harvest, and prices really begin to tumble.

A MIDDLE GROUND

All public action is a compromise of opinions and interests. It is so in domestic legislation, and it must necessarily be so in a treaty.

For months the controversy over the peace treaty has been a battle between extremists. At last there is a prospect of senators and citizens meeting on middle ground and agreeing to a compromise which will preserve the chief merits of the treaty and at the same time allay honest fears and partisan hostility.

This compromise requires, on one side, the surrender of the demand for ratification of the treaty without qualification of any sort, and on the other side, the surrender of all demands for textual amendments that would endanger its acceptance by the other powers. It means the ratification of the text as it stands, with explanatory "reservations" setting forth to what extent the United States will consider itself bound by the provisions that have aroused most criticism in this country.

It looks at present as if the so-called "mild reservationists" will win. They are the middle-ground senators of both parties. Whether from patriotism or party expediency, or both, they seem capable at last of acting together. They form a balance of power that can dominate the situation. Some of the "bitter-end" opponents of the treaty, who sought to kill it entirely, have given up, or will be obliged to give up. The President and his group, favoring absolute and unqualified approval of the treaty, must also yield, to the extent of accepting a set of reservations mild enough not to cripple the League of Nations.

Both sides can afford to do this. Present action is not irrevocable. There will doubtless be time and opportunity hereafter, as there has been in the case of the Constitution of the United States, to make whatever amendments experience proves to be desirable either to strengthen or weaken the bonds of the league.

SEA TRAFFIC INLAND

A committee of experts has pronounced feasible a plan for making docks and harbors along the Great Lakes accessible to ocean-going steamers.

If carried out, this plan will bring a large part of the middle and western part of the country directly into contact with foreign trade. It will do away with much expensive hauling by rail and small boat, and eliminate the transfer of goods to ocean steamers at all ports, which is always an expensive part of such shipments. Also the saving in time will be considerable. As a passenger route, too, this way of taking the trip to Europe will be desirable to unburied tourists. It will enable the traveler bound abroad to make the trip down a system of lakes surpassing any other in the world down the St. Lawrence river or possibly the Hudson and so on across to Europe.

Widening and deepening the Welland Canal will have to be a part of this scheme. The canal has long been too small to serve the purpose it should.

For generations the problem of ocean traffic has been felt to be of little concern to inland Americans. So has the development of the harbors along the Great Lakes. But when the ocean sails directly from Europe into the heart of America the question begins to concern people never interested before and every farmer and manufacturer who has more goods than are needed for the home market becomes interested.

THE INCREASING G. A. R.

An incident at the same time amusing and pathetic occurred at the National G. A. R. encampment at Columbus O., when the reports from the various departments showed that membership in all branches of the G. A. R. had increased during the year.

The steady depletion in the ranks of these grand old men has brought tears to the eyes of every onlooker at their parades and gatherings in recent years. It seems odd now that additional membership should be reported. But is this not the explanation? Many veterans of the Civil War never joined the Grand Army. But these last two or three years have stirred patriotism anew in every old as well as every young breast. Undoubtedly many a man who, for some personal reason, had never added his name to the roster, suddenly decided to make himself known as one who also served and loved his country, and so applied for membership at the nearest post. A sort of public confession of faith, one might say.

At the best, these old men are passing fast. It is a pleasure to know that there are more of them still living than had been supposed.

It does look as if there were more garages being built than houses. Do automobiles need shelter more than people?

It is said that when the European tourist traffic is resumed, Americans may find it impossible to live in Paris, Rome and London for less than $100 a day. See America first. You can still do quite a little living here for $100, here for $100.

Our Future Army

Long Beach Press

The size of the American army of the future is yet indeterminate. Recommendations range from 300,000 to 600,000 men. But the fact is that statesmen and military experts are much at sea because of the indefinite status of the peace treaty and league of nations covenant. Once this nation's decision is made as to the treaty and covenant, public sentiment should crystallize rapidly and intelligently as to what the nation's needs will be, as to military strength. This will be largely experimental for a few years, however.

But as to general principles, there can be no doubting. The American people do not want an overlarge army. They want an adequate military establishment—nothing more—nothing less. They do not want militarism. They yearn for the day when nations will disarm—when it no longer will be necessary for this or any other country to maintain great armies.

Moving Ahead

Forbes' Magazine

We have in the United States between a third and a half of all the wealth of the world. We have more than a third of all the gold; the banks have a deposit something like fifteen or sixteen or seventeen billion dollars in money; the circulation per capita in this country is about $56; our production from the ground during the last year, as I remember, was in value nearly twenty billion dollars; we are a creditor nation, holding the notes or securities of foreign countries, perfectly solvent, amounting to nearly ten billion dollars; we have the best country, the largest resources, the best climate and I may say pretty nearly as good brains. And in the competition with other countries we can take care of ourselves.

Touching Farewell

Nevada City Union

The farewell greetings of General Pershing and Marshal Foch were affectionate, manly, generous and touching. Each expressed high esteem of the soldierly qualities of the other. Each spoke feelingly of the strengthened bonds of friendship between America and France. Both realize that the two nations are united beyond disavowing by the blended blood of their heroes who fought and died together that France and freedom might live and that the world might enjoy just peace, unmenaced by Prussianism.

Waiting

Good English in Business

Horatio Drury in New York Sun

Modern business has begun to awaken to the commercial importance of good English. It is pretty generally understood nowadays that advertisements, letters, pamphlets, bulletins and descriptive circulars which are expressed in correct, simple, clear-cut English make no small contribution to the maintenance and upbuilding of good will—the greatest single asset that any kind of commercial enterprise can accumulate.

Many progressive concerns are therefore taking steps to improve the quality of the English used in all written communications bearing their imprint. In several organizations classes in English are being held for selected groups of employees on company time and at company cost. Other firms are trying to accomplish the same result by making co-operative arrangements with schools and colleges of established reputation. Still other concerns are relying on the controlling counsel of a supervisor of correspondence, whose function is to point out errors in the use of English and suggest better ways of expressing the same thought. And there is usually executive pressure, which finds expression in one way or another, to help the good work along.

All this is as it should be, for the need of instruction in English is clearly very great, despite the effective teaching which is being done in most of our schools and colleges.

First of all, the matter that bears your firm's letterhead is a potential business builder.

It follows, therefore, that the pronoun "you" and "your" should be used often than the pronoun "I," "my," "me," "we," "our" and "us." The "you" point of view, if it sincerely pervades the written communication as a whole, helps to maintain a tone of friendly interest in the problems and needs of the reader.

The third matter which now presents itself for comment is the matter of correctness, grammatical and rhetorical correctness—the mechanics of expression. It is astonishing how widespread is the need for training in phases of English which we like to believe are adequately taught in grammar school to say nothing about high school and college.

To recapitulate—altogether too large a proportion of business men and women (whatever their previous academic training) apparently have yet to learn that logical thinking, sound psychology, correctness of expression and simplicity of style are exceedingly important aspects of good English; and good English is now and will continue to be good business.

Profession of Business Ability

Minneapolis Journal

Business is no longer a haphazard thing; it has become a science. It is more and more difficult to understand the present scale of modern business and economics by what used to be called "experience" alone.

Just as it is no longer possible to become a physician merely by associating with doctors, just as modern law practice is mastered with difficulty by starting as a clerk in an attorney's office, so business today requires greater preparation than a man can get by being a bright, observant, ambitious office boy who saves his money and is good to his mother.

These are assets, of course, and experience is invaluable, but it is evident that modern business is demanding a new type of man. Business has become a science resting upon certain fundamental economic laws. Business today more and more resembles applied science, and its devotee must feel the responsibility of a public servant.

Fifty years ago business life was an adventure or perhaps a family tradition. But it has now become a profession with university standing equal to that of medicine, law or engineering. It is no accident that the great universities have begun to create graduate schools of business.

What it will mean to have industry and business administered by men of professional training no one can foretell. But it will surely bring into the business world a new fellowship and interest, a discipline and esprit du corps which hold much promise for business and for modern society.

Almost thy plausibility
Induces my belief,

Thy consecrated bread to break,
Taste thine immortal wine!

The best way to remove ink stains from wash material is to smear the garment with mutton tallow before sending it to the wash.

In order to avoid the stiff, shiny appearance of most ironed lace, place it right side down on a thick soft towel and iron with an iron not too hot. Bear down on the iron sufficiently to make the figures stand out on the lace and it can not be distinguished from new lace.

JAS. McFADDEN, SCHOOL EXHIBIT PIONEER, DEAD HERE TODAY

Illness Incident to Carbuncles Causes Demise of Resident of Westminster

Jas. A. McFadden, pioneer business man of Orange county, died last night at the Santa Ana hospital as the result of illness due to carbuncles. He was about 65 years of age. Funeral arrangements have not been made.

McFadden for a number of years past has been residing at Westminster, where he was employed off and on in recent years by the San Pedro Lumber company. At one time he was manager of the Westminster branch maintained by the lumber company.

Years ago he lived and worked in Santa Ana, being employed at the Bissel Paint store, which was conducted for many years in the opera house block. He was well known throughout the county.

He was a brother-in-law of J. H. Walton at Westminster, his wife, now deceased, being a sister of Mr. Walton. He had two carbuncles on the back of his neck and last evening his condition became so serious that he was removed to the Santa Ana hospital, where he passed away during the night.

He had not been very strong in recent years and did not have sufficient strength to withstand the sickness incident to the carbuncles. He left no children. He has three sisters living, two in Los Angeles and one in San Pedro. They are Mrs. Alice Trefethen, San Pedro, and Mrs. Mary Sherwood and Mrs. Davies of Los Angeles.

ONE DROWNED, HEAVY DAMAGE FROM STORM

HOUSTON, Tex., Sept. 15.—One man is known to have been drowned, property damage is expected to run into hundreds of thousands of dollars, rail and wire traffic are interrupted and ships held in Texas gulf ports, as the result of a recurrence of the tropical storm which struck the Texas coast from Galveston to Brownsville yesterday.

The loss probably is heaviest in the district between Corpus Christi and Brownsville. The worst of the storm was believed over early today.

The storm extended far inland. The wind reached a velocity of fifty miles an hour.

STRIKE POSTPONEMENT IS NEWS TO OFFICIAL

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Sept. 15.—William Z. Foster, secretary of the national committee for organizing iron and steel workers, said today he knew nothing of the published report that the nationwide strike of iron and steel workers, set for September 22, had been postponed until after the labor conference October 6.

Indians Are Given Prizes For Excellent Work on Display

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 15.—The vocational exhibit, contributed by the children of California schools, is the finest that has ever been displayed at the State Fair. With the incentive of attractive prizes and urged by the educational advantages of such training, the schools of the state have advanced at a marvelous rate during the past two years and taken a greater interest in placing competitive exhibits at the State Fair. The result has been that the directors have been forced to give larger space each succeeding year to the exhibits. It is now the ideal of E. Franklin, director in charge of the vocational and educational department, to secure an appropriation from the legislature for a handsome educational building on the State Fair grounds.

The exhibits of the school children from the various counties are exceptionally fine this year. The prizes have been awarded for the various arts and crafts and for the displays by the domestic science and agricultural classes.

The Modesto high school has an exceptional exhibit in the manual training line. One of the handsomest pieces contributed by this class is a big roller top desk, the workmanship of William Mason, a lame boy. His unusual talent predicts a brilliant future in craft work.

The desk had not been listed as a competitive article, so a special arrangement for recognition will be made by Director Franklin.

The first prize in this exhibit was won by Charles Palmbech, who contributed a dining table. The second prize was an exquisite dressing table, the work of Alfred Ross.

Finest General Exhibit

The Placer schools have one of the finest general exhibits on display in the vocational building. There is an exhibit by the Roseville Union high school that would be difficult to excel. The first prize in this department was won by John Carvin for a library table.

Notwithstanding the fact that Roseville is an inland town, the boys there know how to make boats. An exhibit of this kind is a canvas canoe made by G. Booth. Other articles that have attracted considerable attention is a cedar chest by R. Tennant, a book case, that won second prize, by Vernon Bates, and a knock-down poultry house made on the latest scientific principles by the whole class.

The elementary schools of Placer have a line of small model steamboats and airplanes which have recognition as the most ingenious toys.

The Franklin grammar school has put in a beautiful display of domestic science work by the girls. Among those who have won prizes are Myrtle Kloss, Geneva Hack, Ruth Ehrhardt,

A novelty exhibit by this school is a miniature public hog dip made in cement by Byrl McCain.

The Oakland schools have contributed a very large exhibit. There are articles from the forge and machine shops of the Oakland Vocational high school and beautiful dresses and hats made by the girls in the sewing and millinery classes.

Sacramento Schools

The Sacramento schools stand very high among the exhibitors. The high school has contributed specimens of basketry, cooking, dress making, millinery and various objects by the manual training classes. The elementary grades have a line of woven rag rugs, drawings and articles of all makes and sizes. There are Sacramento school classes making demonstrations daily in cooking, drawing and manual training. Other schools listed for their fine exhibits are from Los Angeles and San Joaquin.

The University of California in connection with the vocational exhibit has inaugurated a nursing class.

The Indian exhibit this year is very full and comprehensive. All the agencies of the state have contributed and a fine comparison has been drawn between the former crude crafts of the Indians in former days and the work that is being done by the schools of the present generation. The Indian school children have an excellent display of garden products, the prize for the best having been won by the Yuma agency.

Susie Dick of the Tule River agency, Fresno county, won first prize for the best handmade head belt. She is 89 years of age.

As a comparison, a young Indian girl, Mattie Jackson, of the Sycamore agency, won first prize for the finest crocheted yoke.

Irene Davis, aged 11 years, of Hoopa Valley, won first prize for the best sewing. Her contribution was a little boy's linen suit, including trousers, blouse and cap.

The success and growth of your newspaper in the final analysis depends upon the endorsement of its policy and service to the public.

MOVIE MAGIC

Just take her to the movies, where the lights are soft and low, Where the villains scowl and heroes pose and autos back-ward go, Where lovers ride by horseback to the distant Sunset Land, And when dire dangers threaten—she'll let you hold her hand.

For here's the wand of romance to touch a maiden's heart, The play and murmured music have all the poet's art, There need no word be spoken, For Cupid will command, The silent language of the soul, that's spoken hand to hand.

With its ever changing visions, and the quaint bewitching tune, This hour was made for lovers, like moonlit nights in June, So take her to the movies and she'll understand— You'll know it by the pressure of her little clinging hand!

From Sonora

Mr. and Mrs. Eric J. Segerstrom and little daughter, Marjorie, of Sonora, Cal., are visiting at the Segerstrom country home in Greenville this week. Mr. Segerstrom has been located at Sonora for the past ten years, where he and his brother have large banking and mining interests. After visiting the orchard of the Ora Vista Orange Company, at Highgrove, of which Mr. Segerstrom is vice president, and a short sojourn at Balboa Beach, they will return to their home the latter part of the month.

Exhibit in S. C. Fair

Promising to be one of the attractive entries in the art section of the woman's department of the Southern California Fair, will be the exhibit entered by Miss Evelyn Nunn. She is planning to place a group of about twenty canvases in the fair. Many of them she has done this summer at Laguna, where her work is quite often exhibited and justly admired by the hundreds of people who visit there.

About "The Clubwoman"

The September copy of "The Clubwoman" has been received and it is indeed a successful result of many weeks of hard and thoughtful labor.

For those who are not familiar with this publication it might be interesting to know that it is the "official organ of the California Federation of Women's clubs, composed of over 40,000 members," with offices in the Brack Shops, Los Angeles. Mrs. W. A. Fitzgerald of Fresno is managing editor and with Mrs. Terry Stephenson of Santa Ana and Mrs. Katherine Smith of Richmond as associate editors, has completed a magazine full of interesting work. It deals with club work, what they have done and what they wish to do with several articles discussing the problems themselves and other problems of current interest.

Among the newly organized clubs it is probable that the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs has created the greatest and widest interest. Miss Pearl Hall, chairman of the Constitutional Committee, National Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs, has contributed a concise and entertaining article, stating the aims and ambitions of the organization. They have "hitched their wagon to a star," that of compelling recognition and equal pay for equal work as accorded to men, and with true business efficiency have set about to reach their goal. Their success will do much towards revolutionizing the woman's business world.

There are poems worth reading and a home economics section, making altogether a publication interesting and instructive.

H. W. SMITH, TUSTIN, Benedict... H. W. Smith, justice of the peace and well known realty operator at Tustin, today is a benedict, having yesterday at Pomona married the widow of his old comrade of the Civil war. The bride was Mrs. Belle O'Neill, widow of D. W. O'Neill of Kallispel, Mont. O'Neill and Smith enlisted in the Civil war at Kalamazoo, Mich., in November, 1861, and fought through the strife of that period.

After the war, O'Neill married and some seven or eight years ago he and his wife came to Long Beach to pass the winter. The old comrades met then for the first time in many years.

They visited the beach every year and Mr. and Mrs. Smith visited them frequently. Mr. O'Neill and Mrs. Smith died a few years ago, and since the acquaintance of Mr. Smith and Mrs. O'Neill has ripened into deeper affection than mere friendship and the wedding of yesterday is the culmination.

The Pomona Bulletin of yesterday morning anticipates the event, as follows:

Veteran of Civil War and Bride Wed in Bower of Purple and Gold

Among the beautiful nuptial services of the season, in which dainty brides have been led to the altar by their returned soldier bridegrooms, none have been more lovely than this afternoon at which a sweet-faced bride of seventy-one will be wed by her soldier bridegroom, veteran of the Civil war. At four o'clock this afternoon the marriage of Mrs. Belle O'Neill, mother of C. I. O'Neill, 625 North Park avenue, to Henry W. Smith, of Tustin, will be solemnized at the O'Neill home. Only relatives of the bridal couple will be in attendance. The home will be beautifully decorated in purple and gold, centreas and golden glow being artistically combined. The national colors will also be used in the decorations, in special honor to the groom. The bride, who is particularly sweet of face, will be charmingly gowned in all white, and the groom will wear the army blue. Rev. W. C. Buckner, pastor of the First Methodist church, will read the ceremony, a two-course wedding luncheon will be served by the bride's daughter-in-law, Mrs. C. I. O'Neill.

Mrs. Belle O'Neill joined her son and his family here about a year ago, coming from Kallispel, Montana. She united with the First Methodist church and quickly won a warm place in the hearts of the women of the church with whom she worked. She was also faithful in her work for the Red Cross, and her pleasing personality has won her a host of friends.

Mr. Smith, although 77 years of age is still active in business circles of Tustin, where he has been prominent in the real estate and insurance business for a number of years. Immediately after the ceremony the couple will leave for their future home in Tustin.

Moving to Santa Ana

The Rialto correspondence of the San Bernardino Index has the following: "Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Rider were yesterday tendered a farewell reception at the Harry Brimmer home. They left today for Santa Ana to make their home, on account of Mr. Rider's business. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Wetton, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Elliott, Betty Elliott, Arthur Brimmer and sons, Maurice and Porter, Lorne and Burleigh Brimmer and the host and hostess."

Have Harvest Feast

The Daughters of Veterans were hostesses to about twenty-five members and guests at a harvest feast at Birch Park last Friday afternoon. Delicious watermelons and casabas were donated by Dr. Peryl Magill and Miss Julia Magill and Miss Bertha Bell, all of Garden Grove. R. R. Smith kept them on ice until the proper hour arrived. Fresh grapes and peaches were also served.

The tables were beautiful with roses, asters and zinnias. The committee in charge were Mrs. Lenore Ward, Mrs. Ida Livenspire, Mrs. Dorothy Padias and Mrs. Leona Talbott.

The next regular meeting will be Monday, September 22.

Start East Tomorrow

Tomorrow Dr. H. E. Zaiser superintendent of the Orange County hospital and Mrs. Zaiser start for a trip of several weeks in the East. Dr. Zaiser is going to Rochester, Minn., to take a special course of lectures and demonstrations under the Mayo Brothers. While he is there, Mrs. Zaiser will visit relatives in Chicago. On their return trip, Dr. and Mrs. Zaiser will stop at Burlington, Iowa, the doctor's former home, for a visit with some of Dr. Zaiser's relatives.

Future Brides Entertained

One of the most interesting of the social affairs being showered upon Miss Flossie Zerman, was the party in her honor given Saturday afternoon by Mrs. Sherman Evans.

Her guest list was specially significant, as the engagement of the girls have all been announced or learned in one way or another, though the date of Miss Zerman's wedding is not yet definitely decided upon and to be in the near future. The charming time the girls had visiting together can easily be imagined and as they were each one bidden to bring a wish for the bride and to come prepared to exchange their favorite recipes, the afternoon hours flew by on rapid wings.

A convenient recipe file was given Miss Zerman by Mrs. Evans, and the recipes placed in this for future use in the new home. In addition guessing contests and games had been prepared for their entertainment, and at the close of the games, Miss Irma Curry was awarded the first prize, and Miss Stella Anderson appropriately consoling.

Mrs. Evans had decorated her home in pink roses, and in the luncheon served on attractive trays, the same tint predominated.

Guests at the affair were: Miss Flossie Zerman, in whose honor the afternoon was planned; her mother, Mrs. A. N. Zerman, and Misses Helen Walker, who is to be the bride of Bernard Packard; Stella Anderson, whose engagement to Chas. McClain has been known for a time; Ada Hoy, whose charming personality captured Paul Olmstead, a Pomona young man, Mamie Dismukes, who will be the bride of Arthur Byers, of Brea; Ethel Miller, whose marriage to Coyes Evans, will be the culmination of a romance begun in high school days, as will also be the case in the affairs of Miss Helen Walker and Miss Anderson, and Miss Irma Curry, who will be the bride of Adrian Wilcox.

Norton-Wilson

The climax to several years of ardent wooing occurred Tuesday afternoon in Los Angeles, when Miss Edna Alameda Wilson of Newport Beach was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Brayton Saltanall Norton. After the wedding ceremony, which was performed in the presence of a few relatives and intimate friends of the contracting parties, the newly married couple departed immediately for San Francisco, where they will spend their honeymoon.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joel Wilson of Newport Heights, and for the past several years has been employed on the local exchange of the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Company as chief operator. She is a charming girl, has a pleasing personality and a sunny disposition, and with her business qualifications and experience with the public, will make an ideal life partner.

The groom is the idol of all who know him, and was formerly a member of the firm of Jackson, Norton & Company at Balboa, but severed active connection with the business when the United States entered the World War and volunteered his services to Uncle Sam. He received a second lieutenant's commission, after studying at the Presidio in San Francisco, and was later promoted to first lieutenant.

They will reside at East Auburn, Cal., where the groom has a ranch and is engaged in literary work.

Country Club Party

Six tables were filled for the card games at the Country Club Saturday afternoon, when Mrs. J. P. Hatzfeld and Mrs. Fred Parsons were hostesses.

Zinnias were used in decorating and at the close of the games Miss Ka-therine Edwards was awarded first prize and Mrs. John Tubbs second. Mrs. Edward McWilliams and Mrs. W. A. Flood were found to hold low score and will be the hostesses for the next afternoon.

Dinner for Cousin

Mrs. M. E. Crane and daughter, Mrs. N. A. Walker, were hostesses yesterday at a dinner, honoring Mrs. Crane's cousin, Mrs. Roy Johnson, of Hemet. But, though the dinner was given for her, she received but little attention, for covers were also laid at the table for her charming triplet, Neal, Fred and Lee, who sat at their places like the little men that they are and divided their smiles impartially.

Pink and white carnations were the flowers used in the decorations of the home and table, where covers marked places for Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Fraser and daughters, Velda, Vivian and Evelyn, Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Walker and children, Herbert, Mary and Lucille, Miss Myrtle and Marvin Lucille.

Informal Luncheon

Mrs. H. T. Trueblood was hostess Saturday at a luncheon for several former Indiana friends now residing in Pasadena who spent the day with her.

Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gibson, Mrs. Mary Carenter, Misses Julius and Maud Carpenter and little Judith Anne and Charles Gibson.

He Saw Goat Eat Mrs. Daniels' Bouquet on Ludlow

Melvin G. Sanaker, brother of Attorney Otto Sanaker of Santa Ana, was "among those present" on the Ludlow when the ship's mascot goat devoured Mrs. Daniels' bouquet.

He has written to his brother as follows:

"We have been here for nearly a week now, I suppose you saw in the papers that the Ludlow had the honor of taking Secretary Daniels and party to Mare Island."

"He picked the Ludlow out of thirty destroyers."

"Mrs. Daniels and several other ladies were also in the party."

"You remember the goat we have aboard. Well, the goat was running around the deck when Mrs. Daniels came aboard with a nice bouquet of flowers. She laid it down on a chair while looking out over the bay. Meanwhile the goat ate the flowers."

"The secretary said it was some goat. He had his picture taken with the goat in it, and so did Mrs. Daniels."

The coming of the fleet gave many people the opportunity to visit with relatives they had not seen in years. Such a chance was seized upon by Attorney Sanaker when the ships were anchored in San Diego Bay and it was while he was visiting with his brother whom he had not seen for twelve years, that he made the acquaintance of the goat, who made himself famous by his fondness for flowers.

Pre-cooling Plant at Orange Proves Its Value In Saving Fruit

ORANGE, Sept. 15.—Turning out about forty cars of its own fruit in addition to fruit stored for other associations, the Santiago packing house set a high mark of activity during last week.

Fruit stored in the pre-cooling plant or six other associations during the recent railroad strike was cleaned up. That this fruit was in good condition in spite of the enforced delay, amply demonstrates the efficiency of the association's pre-cooling plant.

Manager Gross has been driving hard and the house has run night shifts part of the time. The number of cars turned out represents a rather noticeable accomplishment.

ROLLING HEALTH EXHIBITS ARE BEING USED

Fight Against Disease Is Being Taken to Doors of the Homes

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—Health on wheels! Back of the lines during the heat of the war, it was found necessary to carry the fight against disease to the very door of the tiny homes in the villages and hamlets.

On motor trucks of every description American doctors and nurses drove from town to town teaching the women and children how to prevent disease. This was necessary in order to check the spread of tuberculosis, and to hold down the death rate among the babies.

Now, with a physically shaken world facing the task of reconstruction, the need of building up public health becomes greater than ever. Health must continue to be brought to the very door, and the American health experts who saw the value of traveling dispensaries demonstrated overseas are now using them in public health work here.

The extent of this disease as revealed by the examination of men for the National Army is so startling that knowledge of how to prevent it must be brought to every home in every community.

*Health organizations in various parts of the country are making plans for the operation of the type of dispensaries on wheels that proved so valuable in war times.

A traveling dispensary has just been launched with success by the Chicago Tuberculosis Institute, one of the 1500 organizations affiliated with the National Tuberculosis Association which is directing the countrywide campaign against the disease, and which will sponsor the Red Cross Christmas Seal campaign during the holidays.

The car containing the equipment is six by nine feet. The driver's cab is built so that it may be utilized for a dressing room. The interior of the car is a miniature dispensary, completely fitted out with every needed article, cabinets for supplies, hot and cold water, examining tables, etc. A staff of one doctor and two nurses travel with the car.

In Cleveland, Ohio, a motorized dispensary is also a feature of the health work carried on. In one congested area where the health authorities concentrated their work, the death rate among infants was cut in half. This was one of the first practical trysts of the "health truck" in this country.

Electric Car Used
A similar idea was carried out in Connecticut as a war measure sponsored by the women's committee of the Council of National Defense. This was an interurban electric car which carried exhibits of child welfare work. In Wisconsin a portable motion picture show dealing with health educational subjects, was organized by the state anti-tuberculosis association. Outdoor performances were given.

Kansas and Louisiana have made use of railroad transportation by equipping special health cars and routing them over their states. The California state board of health operates a railroad car of health operates a railroad car of sanitation which preaches a roadside sermon on cleanliness and its relation to health. Seven laboratory trucks, modeled after the Cleveland travelling dispensary, and three dental canons, were introduced into Italy by the American Red Cross Tuberculosis Unit.

A typhus train is another innovation which the American Red Cross sent to Russia to administer relief to the victims of the plague. Health experts both in America and Europe, however, predict that the motorized clinic will prove an important factor in the educational work of the future, as its scope widens.

Ocean and Dry Season Change Water's Flavor At Huntington Beach

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Sept. 15.—The mystery of the radical change in the flavor of the water from well No. 3 of the Huntington Beach Water Co., which has caused so much complaint among water-consumers in the city, has been explained, and dry weather is the cause assigned.

The matter was taken up with the State Board of Health by the Water Co., and a letter received from C. G. Gillespie, director of the bureau of sanitary engineering of that body, states that it is common for the water in wells near the ocean to turn brackish in dry years. Normally the fresh water strata outcrop somewhere under the ocean, and as long as there is plenty of fresh water in the strata the salt water will not get back into the well; but where the water is operated at long periods at a water level lower than that of the ocean, there is bound to be a flow of salt water towards the well, which will ultimately reach it. Mr. Gillespie also says that the high chlorine and hardness indicates a substantial mixture of salt and fresh water in the well, and that there is nothing harmful to health in the ingredients found in the water, but the presence of the salt water makes it disagreeable to the taste.

PRINCE IS ARRESTED.
VIENNA, Sept. 15.—A dispatch from Prague reported today that Czech-Slovak leaders, fearing a royalist coup d'état, have arrested Prince Zdenko Lubkowitz, former adjutant to Emperor Karl of Austria.

PORTLAND MAN GAINED 29 POUNDS

C. J. Foleen Had Been Told Operation Was His Only Hope.

"I have more faith in Tanlac than any medicine I have ever seen, and I'll tell you why I say this," said C. J. Foleen, a well known mechanic who is employed by the Southern Pacific Railway Co., and who lives at 601 East 20th St., Portland, Ore., while talking to a Tanlac representative the other day.

"I suffered from stomach trouble for three years or more," continued Mr. Foleen, "and when I commenced taking Tanlac, I was so weak and run down that I was not able to do any work at all. At one time I was in the hospital for seven weeks, and after the very best of treatment there, I was told that nothing but an operation would be any good, and that I would have to submit to it if I ever expected to be well again. I refused to undergo the operation, and was told then that they could do nothing more for me, so I pulled up and went home. Well, after I got home I began to diet myself, thinking that might help me, but I soon found that even milk and mush, and a soft cooked egg would cause gas to form on my stomach, and I would have the worst cramping spells you have ever heard of. I just kept on suffering and getting weaker all the time until I was just about all in."

"Then I heard about Tanlac, and the great things it was doing for so many other people, and I bought a bottle and commenced taking it. Well, sir, I figured that Tanlac would give me some relief, but I had no idea that it was going to make such a clean sweep of my troubles, and put me in the fine condition I am now in. Why, I have gained twenty-nine pounds, and in a short time I was as free from pain and distress as any man on earth. My stomach troubles all disappeared, and my appetite came back in full force, and up to this day, I can hardly get enough to eat. Everything I eat agrees with me, too, and when night comes on I can go to bed and sleep like a rock right through until daylight. Now that was just a year ago, when Tanlac pulled me out of all that trouble, and I haven't lost a day from my work since, and my health has been just fine ever since."

TANLAC is sold in Santa Ana by Rowley Drug Co., in Fullerton by G. W. Finch, in La Habra by R. H. Hilbert, in Huntington Beach by Rigdon's Pharmacy, in Orange by Dittmer's Mission Pharmacy, in Placentia by A. J. Robinson, in Tustin by Tustin Drug Co., in Brea by Brea Pharmacy, in Buena Park by Regal Drug Co., in Garden Grove by O. H. Anderson, and in Laguna Beach by Laguna Beach Pharmacy.—Adv.

KRESEL SAYS PACKERS EACH PAY FOR LOBBY

CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—Isadore Kresel, government investigator, was preparing today to present to the grand jury Wednesday information tending to show the directing heads of the big five packing industries have procured legislation through lobbyists, apportioning the expense among them on a percentage basis.

An annual salary of $5,000 a year was paid to George L. McCarthy, secretary of the American Meat Packers' Association, to act as a lobbyist, Kresel claims.

NAMES OF SISTERS ARE CLOSELY LINKED

So closely are the names of the Cary sisters linked that one is accustomed to consider them almost as a double personality and not as single individuals. Phoebe Cary was born on September 4, 1824, while Alice was her senior by two years. They grew up like two flowers on a single stalk and although Alice was pensive and tender, while Phoebe was witty and gay, the former bore the chief responsibility of the household and in this way allowed her sister to consult her moods in writing.

They gained their first successes by "Poems of Alice and Phoebe Cary," published in 1850, followed by "The Clovenook Papers," and "Clovenook Children," tales of Western life. In this year the sisters moved from Cincinnati to New York where both published a number of books which were very popular. Beside aiding her pastor in editing a book of hymns she prepared "Poems of Faith and Love." The two sisters were one in spirit during life and in death were not long divided, Alice dying February 12 and Phoebe July 31, 1871. Phoebe Cary is the author of that hymn known the world over, beginning:

"One sweetly solemn thought Comes to me o'er and o'er: I am nearer home today Than I ever have been before;

"Nearer my Father's house, Where the many mansions be, Nearer the great white throne, Nearer the crystal sea;

"Nearer the bound of life, Where we lay our burdens down, Nearer leaving the cross, Nearer gaining the crown!"

Will Meet Tonight to Launch Campaign For Treating Drug Addicts

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 15.—With the practice of using drugs reported increased since the sale of liquor was stopped, a campaign to check it through proper treatment of addicts, will be started in earnest tonight, when health and police officers, federal officials, representatives of state institutions, physicians and laymen will meet here to discuss establishment of a clinic.

Justice F. Wardell, collector of internal revenue, who is active in the campaign, has data regarding the New Orleans clinic to present. This plan requires that the addicts be kept employed to divert their thoughts from such stimulants. They will be given a daily allowance barely sufficient for their mental and physical balance, and this will be reduced gradually until the men and women have been weaned away from the practice and through the work done, have rehabilitated their wasted strength.

FIGHT FOR ADRIATIC CLAIM BELIEVED LOST

ROME, Sept. 15.—The Paris correspondent of the Idea Nazionale, reports to his paper that notwithstanding Foreign Minister Tittoni's efforts, Italy's fight for her Adriatic claim has been lost. He says that under the last project submitted to the peace conference neither Fiume, Zara nor Zerbengo will be Italian. He added that President Wilson might even veto those concessions made to Italy in the settlement proposed.

PRIZE IS OFFERED FOR CARNIVAL NAME

Anaheim Board of Trade Is Planning Big Stunt For Near Future

ANAHEIM, Sept. 15.—Here is a chance to make a good, clean, "ten-spot."

It ought to be easy, too. The carnival committee of the Board of Trade, appointed by President Horace Benjamin, is offering a prize of $10 to the person suggesting the best name for the carnival and fiesta to be held on Saturday evening, October 4, and to be made an annual event thereafter. New Orleans has its Mardi Gras and Oregon its Rodeo, now Anaheim proposes to have its: "What shall it be?" The committee wants some catchy, original name and will give $10 for it.

Names may be mailed to the secretary, R. C. Berger, of the C. B. Berger company. This contest will close at 6 o'clock next Friday night.

The carnival and fiesta is to be unlike anything else of the kind ever given, is to be full of pep and spice, a good, jolly time for everyone, and instead of taking a chance with some professional, outside carnival company, it is to be entirely put on by local talent.

It has been decided to hold the carnival on the vacant square at the northwest corner of Center and Emily streets.

Officers have been elected as follows: Al G. Barnes, chairman; R. C. Berger, secretary; Louis Danz, treasurer.

The following committees were appointed:

Concessions and Entertainments—H. E. W. Barnes, A. C. Dodge, Frank Tausch, Dr. Waters, E. A. Beard, H. D. Riley and R. C. Berger.

Advertising and Publicity—Gresswell and Danz.

Band men appointed by Frank Tausch to work in conjunction with carnival committee—Jack Abbott, Dr. Brasao and Herman Schindler.

Construction Committee—A. Bayliss and F. K. Gresswell.

SUGAR FACTORY MEN BURNED BY STEAM

Tom Martes and Tom Aguilar, two employees of the Santa Ana sugar factory, were severely burned early yesterday morning while working at the plant. Martes is at the Santa Ana hospital suffering from severe burns on the face, eyes, left arm, back and breast.

Aguilar is at his home. He has burns on his left leg, thigh, back and ankles. The injuries of both are serious but not necessarily fatal. The men were working at a pressure tank in operating it the pressure is shut off before opening. Yesterday morning it was opened without the pressure being shut off and as a result hot water and steam enveloped both men.

The Yippers made it eight straight wins and the complete series from Seattle by topping Thomas, Reiger and Williams for a 6 to 4 victory.

After winning the first game, 10 to 4, by hard hitting, the Bees weakened in the second and the Seals clouted Stroud and Dale for a 7-5 win.

The Angels tied the Tigers for league leadership. Both games yesterday went to killifer's men. Fourrier's double with three on won the morning game, 6-5, and the afternoon game ended 6-2 in the tenth with three singles and Ellis' homer.

The Beavers took both from Vernon, outitting the Tigers in the first, 5-3, and in the second winning a tightly played game, 3-2.

Yesterday's hero—Eddie Rousch, Cincinnati, got four hits out of four trips to the plate and the Reds beat the Braves, 1 to 0.

Carl Mays pitched the Yanks to an 8-1 win over the Browns.

St. Louis bumped Jess Barnes and trimmed the Giants, 3 to 1.

"Fox" Griffith used five pitchers, but Washington couldn't stop the Tigers, losing 9 to 4.

Two doubles and two triples helped the Cubs cop one from the Phillies, 4 to 0.

WHITE SOX LOOK BEST FOR SERIES BETTING

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—With the Reds and White Sox close to "sure things" as the season's pennant winners, dopsters are watching the work of the two teams in the final stretch to get a line on the world's series prospects. If the work of the two leaders the past week is to be taken as an indication, the cash of the doubtful ones will lean toward the White Sox.

Maybe Morse is easing up his boys in the stretch and perhaps the absence of Renie Groh has upset the club. The Reds slumped badly last week. Their batting was way off form, with the poorest stick work of the league. But out of the seven games they won four.

On the other hand, Gleason kept up his whirlwind pace. In six games the White Sox won five.

BIG COLLEGE COACHES TRY FOOTBALL SQUADS

CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—"Big Ten" coaches today sent their football squads through the first practice of the season. Reports from all colleges indicated it has been many years since the Big Ten has had such a wealth of material for building up strong teams. The schedule will be well under way by October 11, but some games will be played as early as September 27.

ANAHEIM HIGH TO ORGANIZE NEW GRID SQUAD

Practice Work to Commence
Tomorrow Under Coach
Virgil Ward

ANAHEIM, Sept. 15.—Anaheim high school is to have a real honest to goodness football team this year. This will come as welcome news to the boys of the school and girls as well, as it has been five or six years since the pigskin has been booted over the Anaheim campus.

Virgil Ward, who was on the Beaumont high school faculty last year, has been secured as athletic coach and has been very busy lining up the work for the coming year.

The campus will be plowed and rolled and put in shape for practice that will begin Tuesday, George Danton, Fordson agent, very graciously responded to a request from Professor Claves and Coach Ward, and will plow the field at once.

Since the Orange County Football League has already mapped out its program for the year, Anaheim may not be able to get into any of the big games. However, they will have excellent practice and play some good "seconds" at any rate and be well lined up to win a championship in 1921.

MANY DOGS ENTERED FOR FIELD TRIALS

LEBANON, Ore., Sept. 15.—With one of the most notable entry lists in the history of the organization, the Pacific Coast Field Trials Club today opened its 36th annual meet. Bird dogs from all parts of the Pacific Northwest, California, Nevada and even British Columbia are entered for the competitions, with some far east entries.

The wonderful game resources of this section make the local field ideal for such trials. William Ziegler, Jr., New York, whose Merry Montrose has won the last two championships, will re-enter this famous canine, also fourteen other bird dogs of promise. J. M. Avery, Tennessee, will also have a large entry. Willie Wilkes, winner of this year's British Columbian All-Age Stakes, has been entered by Dr. Arthur Reardsley, and is a strong favorite.

California sportsmen will be represented by a big list of dogs, brought here by special car. Bakersfield, Los Angeles, Pasadena, Alameda, San Francisco and Sacramento are all represented.

MINE WORKERS WON'T WITHDRAW, PREDICTED

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Sept. 15.—Decisive defeat for the resolution calling on the United Mine Workers of America to withdraw from the American Federation of Labor, was predicted here today by Robert H. BLAME LYNCHING ON GOVERNOR'S LENIENCY

PUEBLO, Colo., Sept. 15.—The lynching of two Mexicans here Saturday night was a "law and order" protest against Governor Shoup's leniency toward convicted murderers from this section, leaders of the mob declared today. Although Santos Ortiz, one of the lynch victims, was a cousin of Pancho Villa, the hangings were not due to hatred of Mexicans and were entirely thoughtless of international complications, the mob leaders state.

Commutation of the death sentence passed upon Clifford Sprouls, a Pueblo murderer, and a stay of execution granted the Bosko brothers Saturday, although they were confessed murderers of two prominent men of this section, inspired the mob to take the law into their own hands, it is stated.

The large Mexican quarter here is quiet today. No outbreak is expected. Ortiz and Jose Gonzales, the victims, probably will be buried in Potters field without any large number of mourners from among their fellow Mexicans. A protest is expected, however, from the Carranza government to the American state department.

Ortiz and Gonzales killed a policeman and were lynched within twenty-four hours.

YOUNG TEDDY IN S. F. FOR AMERICAN LEGION

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 15.—"Young Teddy"—Theodore Roosevelt, Jr.—a Lieutenant-colonel like his daddy was, is the guest of San Francisco today, in his trip throughout the nation in the interests of the American Legion, the nationwide organization of veterans, in which he is active as an executive. Every minute of his time here will be utilized to the utmost.

A speech regarding his famous father will be given by Roosevelt at the request of the California committee of the Roosevelt Memorial Association. This will be given in the afternoon. Conferences with California executive officers the remainder of the day will be succeeded by a speech at the Civic Auditorium with Americanism and the American Legion's duty toward it, as its theme. He leaves after the speech for northern points.

Buttons In Wall Will Replace Servant Girl, Say Electrical Men

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Buttons in the wall will replace the servant girl and end the hired help problem, according to electrical experts who are planning the Electrical Exposition to be held in Grand Central Palace, New York, beginning September 24.

A model home will be constructed at the exposition with buttons in many places which will control electrical contrivances designed to do anything a servant can do, from serving breakfast to dusting.

The idea originated with Arthur Williams, Federal Food Administrator for New York, who is also head of the Electrical Exposition.

The other ships of the fleet, one by one, took position behind the New Mexico.

COUPON DAY FOR LIBERTY BOND HOLDERS

Millions Will Be Paid By Banks; Buy War Stamps
Is Urged

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 15.—The United States Government will pay out more than $6,000,000 today in semi-annual interest to holders of Third Liberty Loan Bonds in the Twelfth Federal Reserve District. Today's interest payment, added to the two previous interest installments paid on Third Loan Bonds by the Government, gives a total of nearly $18,000,000 earned since May, 1918, by the $287,975,000 invested by 1,402,584 purchasers of bonds of the Third Loan in this Federal Reserve District.

"Be sure and clip your coupons and cash them," is the advice broadcasted to holders of the Third Loan Bonds by Robert E. Smith, director of the War Loan Organization of the Twelfth Federal Reserve District. "Coupons uncashed are idle money. It is no trouble to cash your coupons. Just clip the September 15 coupon off and present it at any bank and you will get your money. It is no more trouble than getting change for a bill."

If all bondholders in America cash their coupons today there will be in circulation tomorrow nearly $85,000,000 more money than was in circulation yesterday. That is approximately the total amount of interest to be paid out on the Third Loan as a whole today.

"Here is a chance for the people to hit high prices a hard blow," said Director Smith. "Every man, woman and child who owns a Third Loan Bond should cash the coupon and immediately buy Thrift or War Savings Certificates which bear more interest than the bonds. Investment of the Third Loan Bond interest at the bank window immediately upon cashing the coupons will keep that $85,000,000 out of circulation and thus help keep prices down."

"I cannot urge too strongly the wisdom of letting the Government keep this interest money and, not only that, but continued buying of War Savings Stamps out of every pay envelope. If everyone in the United States would set aside something each week for War Savings Stamps earning them four per cent interest compounded every three months, it would be a very short time until there would be a noticeable drop in prices."

TRIMMINGS TO THE FORE

A manufacturer of French novelties has produced most attractive wool galloons and ribbons in diagonal and also in basket weaves, to be used like trimming braids. They are applied in flat bands, close rows and even tied and looped for sashes. Ombre and two-tone ribbons are noticeable in this class of accessories which increases the variety of smart trimmings. It is a sign of changing styles that much more elaboration appears on clothes. The simplicity of other recent seasons with a little workmanship as consistent, is giving way to more extravagant outlay of effort and materials themselves.

BEAN STANDARD DECIDED ON BY ASSOCIATION

Meeting at Oxnard Puts the Estimate at 550,000
Bags of Limas

Meeting at Oxnard Saturday, the California Lima Bean Growers' Association determined upon the following as what is to be known this season as the standard grade of choice re-cleaned limas or baby limas.

Choice re-cleaned limas or baby limas shall contain:

Not less than (including splits which shall not exceed 2 1/2 per cent) 97 per cent of edible beans.

Not more than a total of 3 per cent of stained and of worm damaged beans and of adobe or other foreign matter.

And in no case more than one per cent of worm damaged beans and no more than one per cent of adobe or other foreign matter and no more than one and one-half per cent of stained or discolored beans.

All percentages to be determined by weight.

W. C. Jerome, who attended the Oxnard meeting, today stated that the official estimate placed by the association on the crop of beans this season in Southern California was 550,000 bags of big limas and 200,000 bags of baby limas, as against 1,750,000 bags of both varieties last season.

ADVISES COATS BE SELECTED CAREFULLY

The first problem of the Fall is not whether or not you will have a coat, but what style of coat you will choose. A wrap of some sort is an absolute necessity, especially one of a smart, sober style, which will enable you to wear any type of dress that you choose, from simplest chemise morning frock to the silk dress that you wear for luncheon or tea. A coat that covers so wide a field must be carefully chosen, and it is its material really that gives it its versatility. For example, a coat of fur cloth, duvetyn, wool velours, camel's-hair, cloaking or broadcloth would be correct and acceptable at any time of the day, where a coat of cloaking satin or plush would belong distinctly to your elegant leisure. Checks, tweeds and mixtures, which are excellent for hacking, motoring and so forth, are limited to that one special type of usefulness.

Duvetyn is the most popular of the Winter cloak fabrics. Camel's-hair cloaking is the newest or rather the latest revival, while satin and plush are the most elegant. In many cases the fur fabrics are more satisfactory than the real fur, because they are lighter in weight. They come in splendid copies of chinchilla, gray rabbit, seal plush, beaver, mole plush, caracul and astrakhan, all of which are splendid for the type of coat and also for the short coat wrap which is newer than the long coat and has certain advantages as well as certain limitations. The coat wrap is really a more comfortable coat for walking, for it is lighter and gives you greater freedom. On the other hand, it does not cover you up completely, which is one of the advantages of the long coat. The wrap coat is in kimono style, cut wide under the arm, which gives it the graceful, draped effect. The long coats are cut on very simple lines. All of them have big collars, in some cases very much draped. They all have narrow belts, either of the coat material or of leather. Most of them completely cover the dress, but can be made three or four inches shorter if you prefer.

One of the coats that originated in Paris shows the new Parisian fondness for English things. It is an ulster-like coat with a half-length cape, and is very smart. The deep 1830 yoke with the crown collar makes quite a distinctive coat, and one that is especially becoming to slender women. The simplicity of the present styles is due largely to the fact that materials are very scarce and dear in France and the French designers are therefore cutting them up as little as possible. —The Delineator.

MAN ON CRUTCH DEFENDANT IN DAMAGE SUIT

Street Sweepers Testify In Action Growing Out of Accident

A discussion as to whether Main street at Huntington Beach runs east and west or north and south was one of the features of the trial before Superior Judge West in the Superior court today of the action brought by Peter Ringville, a street sweeper, against H. W. Johnson, for $2500 damages, as the result of an accident at the beach city.

The defendant, an elderly man, came into court leaning on a crutch. He was assisted to his seat by the bailiff.

Testimony in broken English was given by Ringville, who is a Swede. He said that at the time of the alleged accident, which is said to have occurred on May 15 of last year, he was knocked down by an automobile. The plaintiff said that his back was turned at the time he was struck and he did not know until later who drove the car which knocked him down.

The discussion as to the direction in which Main street runs was participated in by Judge West, who stated that he was under the impression that the street ran east and west. The point was finally settled largely by statements from Ringville, who said he knew the street ran north and south because the North star rose every night at one end of it. He also carried a compass, he said.

Dr. F. E. Wilson of Huntington Beach gave testimony as to the extent of Ringville's injuries. John L. Kearney, claim adjuster for the State Compensation Insurance Fund, plaintiff in another damage action brought against Johnson, testified that he paid the compensation growing out of the accident to Ringville.

F. M. Brunton, another street sweeper, took the stand and testified that he was working within eleven feet of Ringville at the time the latter was run into. Both had their backs turned to Johnson's automobile as it approached, he said.

This afternoon F. A. Grate was on the stand. He testified that he was on an oil wagon on North Main street, a short distance north of the intersection of Main street and Ocean avenue, when the accident occurred. He said that he witnessed the accident.

Attorneys Scarborough and Forgy are representing Ringville. Eden and Koepsel are attorneys for the defendant.

19 TO TESTIFY AT SNELGROVE'S TRIAL

Nineteen character witnesses, summoned at the request of Clyde Bishop, defense attorney for A. Snellgrove, automobile repairman of Ramona Acres, Los Angeles county, who is charged with a criminal offense against Lillian Doyasbere of this city, were today being served with summonses to appear in the superior court tomorrow in readiness to testify at Snellgrove's trial.

Most of the witnesses reside in Los Angeles county, it is stated.

A special venire of twenty prospective jurors was issued today by the county clerk.

Snellgrove is in the county jail in default of $10,000 bail. His preliminary examination was held on August 10th.

The charges were brought by Mrs. Camille Methivier, mother of Lillian Doyasbere. The girl is 14 years of age.

SELECT TABLE LINEN BY WEIGHT, FINENESS

Table linen should be chosen by weight as well as by fineness of thread. Irish linen is the ideal choice for company use, if one can afford it. Scotch linen is also very fine, and less expensive as a rule.

Table cloths may be purchased by the yard or in pattern lengths. Pattern lengths are, of course, the more desirable, as well as the more expensive, as in these the pattern and border designs are continuous, instead of being broken by cutting—as in the case of linen bought by the yard. In general, cloths with small designs and in the ordinary finish wear better than those with large designs or with the fancy satin figures and stripes preferred by some housewives.

For ordinary use, tablecloths of plain linen with only a simple center design, or those with a good all-over pattern, are very serviceable as well as tasteful.

Many housekeepers whose dining tables are round, use round tablecloths. But it is better to use a cloth with a circular design in the center than to use a round cloth for the reason that after a few launderings a round cloth is apt to stretch out of shape and lose its original circular perfection.

Napkins should match the tablecloth. These come from 14 to 31 inches in size, the size chosen depending upon the use for which they are intended.

Goes To Salinas to Claim Auto In Which Bandits Fled

BEARING a letter from Sheriff C. E. Jackson to the sheriff at Salinas, California, Emil Wetzel, son of Rudolph Wetzel of Fullerton, today departed for the northern city to claim the Chevrolet automobile in which three men fled from La Habra, after robbing the elder Wetzel.

One of the three men who robbed Wetzel was James C. Montgomery, it is believed by Sheriff Jackson. Montgomery was arrested Saturday at Santa Monica on a charge of complicity in the robbery of Dr. Y. W. Yates of Pacific Grove at Salinas. This robbery is said to have been committed under circumstances similar to those occurring at the time Wetzel was robbed. Three men, two of them in sailor's uniforms, bound and gagged Wetzel after he had given them a ride in his automobile. After robbing him, they left him lying by the side of the road and fled in the machine which the younger Wetzel will bring back from Salinas.

Montgomery was implicated in the robbery of Dr. Yates by the alleged confession by another man now under arrest. His arrest at Santa Monica followed his escape from officers at Salinas last week.

HELPFUL HINTS ON HOME DECORATING

"Whatever else you do, don't put furniture in the corners," is the wise advice given by a decorator who has had unusual success in the decorating and furnishing of small and medium sized rooms.

Nothing limits a room—cramps and contracts it—so much as occupied corners. With the boundary lines of the room broken or obscured, any suggestion of distance of spaciousness, is lost. Many rooms are actually distorted in appearance when a piece of furniture is placed in a corner.

Of course if the room is irregular in shape, a well-placed curved davenport may correct an awkward line or a desk with a suitable chair near by may be used to good advantage, but these are exceptions that prove the rule.

The average room, unless unusually sparsely furnished—and precious few are—has a tendency to be cramped in appearance, especially those with low ceilings. In well over half the cases clearing every corner so a line from floor to ceiling is visible remedies the defect to a surprising extent.

Very few pieces of furniture were ever designed to stand in corners, and most of these were originally planned for the corners of very large rooms. A corner cupboard in a small room is a big mistake. So is a grandfather's clock in the corner of a small room, or grand piano—even a baby one. These interesting articles require a room of dignified dimensions or they will appear "out of place" and the room itself warped and unsymmetrical.

Even if there is room to keep a book case or chest of drawers only a foot away from a corner the effect will be better than if the end of the piece be crowded up in the corner, close to the two walls.

Experiment with the furniture—try grouping pieces that naturally belong together. See if clear corners aren't possible. They are bound to give a suggestion of spaciousness—a restful, orderly atmosphere that in any room is refreshing.—From the New York Sun.

Watch for Bands on Buck Killed

SAN FRANCISCO, September 15.—"Watch for bands when you kill a duck this year" is the request state and federal game authorities are making of sportsmen.

To determine flight lanes of the migratory game birds, hundreds of ducks have been trapped and bands placed on their legs telling when and where they were captured. The birds were then liberated.

Persons killing such ducks are asked to notify the State Fish and Game Commission as to the band marking and the place the ducks were killed.

EX-DIVING GIRL GETS CLEMENCY AS BIGAMIST

Judgment Is Suspended One Year In Case of Woman
Jailed at S. F.

Brought before Superior Judge Williams today, Mrs. Florence Musser, who had pleaded guilty to a charge of bigamy in connection with marrying John Carter, of San Francisco, in this city on July 24, was granted probation.

Pronouncing of judgment was suspended by Judge Williams for one year, during which time Mrs. Musser is to live at the True Love home in Los Angeles. While living at the home, Mrs. Musser may receive visits from friends at the home, under rules as obtaining at the institution, but she is not to see Carter.

September 24 is the date upon which Carter is to be tried in Department 2 of the superior court on a charge of knowingly marrying a person already married.

Just prior to leaving the court room today, Mrs. Musser said:

"I would like to ask the court one question. May I see Carter before I leave for the home in Los Angeles?"

The court replied that that question was one with which the district attorney's office would have to deal. Deputy District Attorney William F. Menton today stated that he was undecided as to whether he would permit a final meeting between the couple tomorrow morning before Mrs. Musser is taken to Los Angeles.

After Judge Williams had informed Mrs. Musser of the terms of her probation, he said:

"I think, Mrs. Musser, that you have been a very foolish and silly girl."

"I think so, too," Mrs. Musser answered.

Referring to Mrs. Musser's relatives, who, Judge Williams said, had been caused much grief as a result of Mrs. Musser's action, the court remarked:

"I think if you had always followed your mother's advice you would not have had this trouble."

Admits Perverseness
"I know it," Mrs. Musser replied, emphatically.

When the question of the possibility of her seeing Carter at the True Love home came up, Mrs. Musser told the court with emphasis:

"I won't see him."

The court said he was informed that Guy M. Musser, husband of the woman, desired that she be sent to the state's prison.

"You know nothing to the contrary, I presume," Judge Williams said.

"No," Mrs. Musser answered.

"I understand that your father would rather have you go to state's prison than to continue having anything to do with Carter," Judge Williams said.

Mrs. Musser hung her head at this.

Once Diving Girl

Mrs. Musser told the court that her two children were now staying with relatives at Venice. Her husband, she understood, was working at San Pedro. Asked whether Musser had contributed anything to her support, she replied that he paid the grocery bills. She said that she had done work of various kinds at Venice and that once she was a diving girl there, giving exhibitions.

When asked whether at the time the marriage ceremony was performed in this city she did not know the gravity of her offense, Mrs. Musser answered that she had no realization of it until she and Carter were in San Francisco. She and Carter were at San Francisco for two weeks before their arrest, she said.

Mrs. Musser's father is Captain Henry Behrens, engaged in ship salvaging work at Honda, in Santa Barbara county. She met Carter, she said, while he was working for her father at Honda.

The automobiles were going in opposite directions, the one driven by Oychara proceeding northward. Both machines were thrown to one side by the impact. None of the men in the accident were injured.

Riding with Oychara was H. Nacamura, also of Los Angeles. With Fletcher were C. Fletcher, Arthur Erickson, T. Karasegoski and William de Pons, all of San Diego.

WILL FIGHT FOR RESUMPTION OF FREE TOLLS IN COUNTY

Walter Eden In San Francisco Attending Conference on Rate Adjustment

Assemblyman Walter Eden is in San Francisco today prepared to fight before the railroad commission for preservation of the free toll zones in Orange county. He is there as the representative of the Associated Chambers of Commerce and he has strong hopes of finally securing an order from the railroad commission directing the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Company to resume the free toll zones in the county, interrupted on May 1 by order of Burleson.

The railroad commission never has issued an order directing the company to eliminate the free service and it is hoped that in the adjustment of telephone rates to be made by the commission following the hearing now in progress in San Francisco that the old order will be re-established.

The fact that the Orange County Farmers and Merchants' Association is now taking steps to operate a mutual system in the county is expected to have some bearing on the situation, with the operating company more or less willing that the free zones should be reinstated.

First Step in Probe
The hearing starting today is the first step toward an investigation of the rates of the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Company—the cause of numerous complaints throughout California since the raising of rates by Postmaster General Burleson during the period of federal control. Representatives of municipalities, commercial associations and a number of individuals are meeting with officials of the telephone firm before the State Railroad Commission to arrange the probe.

The meeting is being held to determine the scope of the investigation, and the methods to be used in arriving at the facts connected with the readjustment of service rates. The suggestions of all, whether written the commissioners in letters or presented orally, are to receive consideration, and from these the commission will arrange the methods by which its strenuous task of reviewing the intricate telephone rates, deposit and similar questions.

The meeting follows an order by the commission, issued the day after federal control ceased, which started the work of arranging the readjustment of rates. The commission was powerless to act during the period of federal control of wire utilities.

PARK SCENES OF TUESDAY WILL BE SHOWN

The big doings at Orange County Park last Tuesday when the larger portion of the residents of Orange county were on hand to pay homage to returned service men, will be seen in moving pictures tomorrow night and the following night at the West End Theater.

The film will be an additional feature to the regular program and is presented through the courtesy of the Orange County Ignition Works. The films were taken by Cochems at the instance of the Ignition Works.

The picture is said to be good and to show the faces of thousands of people who were at the park with such clearness as for it to be easy to distinguish anyone.

All the features of the big event are reproduced. Manager Schlesinger is anticipating a crowded house at each of the performances.

A. C. BLACK UNDER KNIFE AS PIN IN HIS CHEST DISAPPEARS

Prominent Contractor Victim of Strange Accident Early Friday

A. C. Black, prominent contractor and builder of this city, is not a success as a human pin-cushion. There is no trouble when it comes to a question of a pin lodging in Black's chest. But when it comes to locating the pin—there's the rub.

A pin became fastened in Black's chest Thursday night—and the pin is still there today, despite an operation performed at the Santa Ana Hospital Saturday morning.

X-rays have been taken of Black's chest, and the pin has been located, in the X-ray pictures, but surgeons who probed for the offending pin have so far been unable to locate it.

Black's condition is not serious. Though somewhat weakened from the effects of the anesthetic, he was out about his duties today. A second X-ray picture was to be taken this afternoon in an attempt by surgeons more definitely to "spot" the little piece of wire which is causing all the trouble.

Goes Under Skin
It was while Black was in bed, shortly before 1 o'clock Friday morning, that he first made the acquaintance of the pin in question. He felt a pricking sensation on the right side of his chest, slightly to the left of the collar bone. Only partially awake, he put his hand on the pin, evidently giving it a slight push, for the pin buried itself under the skin for its entire length.

Black worked for a half hour, endeavoring to get hold of the head of the pin to withdraw it. Somehow, the head had become imbedded underneath the skin.

Redoubling his efforts, Black pushed the point of the pin against the bone, thinking thereby to secure a "purchase" on the pin and to force its head up. He was unsuccessful in his efforts. Up to this time he had been able to feel the pin in one spot exasperatingly reposing just underneath the skin.

Pin Disappears
Suddenly, in less than the twinkling of an eye, Black was no longer able to feel the pin near the surface. The pin had gone, imbedding itself in the muscles of the chest.

Then Black went to an adjoining room and awoke his wife, who, despite her utmost efforts, was unable to get hold of the pin.

Black went about his work as usual Friday morning. At 10 o'clock two X-rays were taken, and the pin located, though it could not be seen through a spectroscopic.

Saturday morning an operation was performed. Surgeons probed for more than an hour, but the pin proved obdurate.

It is not expected that results will prove serious.

Black went about his work as usual Friday morning. At 10 o'clock two X-rays were taken, and the pin located, though it could not be seen through a spectroscopic.

THERE IS A TIDE THAT LEADS ON TO FORTUNE

Shakespeare's figure of the flow and ebb of the tide is most apt in its application to the growth and decline of human force. He makes it quite apparent that, in using this figure, he does not mean merely the advance of a man's power to its maximum at the maturity of his years and its decline through age, but refers to the mystery of the attainment of the maximum of fortune or power or popularity through the man's own efforts, through royal favor or through public caprice, and the subsequent decline through this complex of sloth, of inattention, the public's surfeit.

Shakespeare is always a believer in the man's own power over his destiny. "The fault is not in our stars, but in ourselves that we are underlings." It devolves upon us to take at its flood the tide that leads on to fortune. But he would have been much less profound than he was if he had not noted and deeply pondered the phenomenon of the man's limitations within himself. "Hereditary sloth!" It means much. Man is after all a slothful beast—a beast perverse against himself, who, even when he is thirsty sometimes will not drink. And Shakespeare in his own life exemplified this tendency.

The tide of his success, his popularity and his intellectual production flowed steadily and swiftly through the years of his early maturity. The sonnets show how keenly he was himself aware that his hand was upon the skirts of undying fame. He knew that "the world would not willingly let die" what he had written. Sonnet LXXXI is conclusive as to his consciousness of his own power. And then, before he was old, he left it all behind him, and went to Stratford and—ebbed.—Boston Transcript.

BEAN POOL HAS FINISHED ITS JOB, CLOSES OFFICE

Successful Handling of Crop Is An Argument For Co-operation

With its work completed in a highly satisfactory manner, the Lima Bean Agency on Saturday went out of existence. The directors of the agency, organized on March 18 for the purpose of handling hold-over lima beans, reviewed the reports, accepted them, and formally closed their work.

During the winter and early spring, the lima bean market was in bad shape. Beans were not moving at any price. The situation appeared to be hopeless until representatives of the California Lima Bean Growers' Association, independent brokers and growers, and bankers got together and organized a pool, known as the Lima Bean Selling Agency. The final reports given to the directors showed that 786 individuals and companies came into the pool, which gave the selling agency a control of the lima bean supply. Prices were fixed, and the market was stabilized, with the result that the agency was able to advance the prices of beans materially.

Distributed for Limas
For the lima beans, $2,532,186.73 was distributed by the agency, making a net price to the growers of .07043 of a cent per pound. The total distribution to growers for baby limas was $473,712.59, making .06355 of a cent per pound. The total amount distributed by the agency was $3,005,899.33.

The success of this pool, in spite of what at first appeared to be difficulties that might not be surmountable, said A. J. Crookshank, president of the First National Bank of Santa Ana, one of the directors of the pool, is a practical demonstration of what co-operation in handling of crops will do.

The results accomplished are the best arguments of the year in favor of co-operative growers' associations. Through co-operation, the market was stabilized, and the beans were sold.

In order to have a stable bean market in the future it is going to be necessary that the California Lima Bean Growers' Association have at least 80 per cent of the beans of the state signed up with it.

Took Help of Both
This last year the percentage signed with the association was so small that the association could not control the situation, and it took both association and independents combined to pull the crop out of the hole.

"Under the new plan for this year, the two most powerful of the independents have thrown their beans in with the association, and the association is now a stronger organization than it has ever been. It must be kept strong, and for the best interests of all of those interested in bean growing every effort should be used to build it up. The Lima Bean Selling Agency, which completed its work Saturday, was designed as a temporary organization to meet an emergency. The association is designed as a stable permanent organization, which, if it gets the support of 80 per cent or more of the beans produced, is bound to be a success. Every grower should give it his support."

Soldier Takes Bride at the Biggest Affair of Kind In Colorado

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Sept. 15.—Speaking of society affairs in Indian circles, the recent marriage of Petra Sounea to Joseph Tafoyia was the greatest in the history of Colorado.

Both are Santa Clara pueblo people and when Tafoyia started to war he carried with him the promise of the dusky belle to be his bride on his return.

He was among the last to get back from overseas and when he arrived home immediate preparations were made for the wedding. The couple decided the ceremony should be performed amid the ruins of the homes of their ancestors.

The ceremony was the Indian ritual and hundreds of their race as well as many white friends were in attendance. After the ceremony there was a big feast.

PHILIP D. WILSON IS KILLED IN CAR CRASH

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 15.—Philip D. Wilson of 1263 Fifth avenue, former secretary of the Los Angeles Realty Board, member of the State Board of Equalization, and one of the best known real estate men in the country, was fatally injured in a collision at Pasadena late yesterday afternoon.

The automobile in which Wilson was riding was struck by a south-bound Pasadena Short Line train at the corner of Fair Oaks avenue and Waverly drive. Wilson was at the wheel. Riding with him was C. M. Armstrong of 325 South Grand avenue, Pasadena. The machine was practically demolished. Wilson died in the Marengo Hospital at 6 p. m., an hour after the accident occurred. Armstrong, severely cut and bruised, but not critically injured, was removed to his home.

It is miraculous that Blaylock was not killed when he took hold of Stockton to pull him loose from the wire. Had he been killed the chances are that other members of the family would have attempted rescue and each might have been killed as the attempt was made.

GRABBED PHONE LINE CARRYING 10,000 VOLTS OF CURRENT

Edison Co. Lead Cable Falls Across Wires of Exchange at Smeltzer

J. T. Stockton was electrocuted last night at the home of his brother-in-law, W. W. Blaylock, at Smeltzer. Blaylock sustained an electric shock, the lives of the members of his family were jeopardized and a dozen or fifteen homes in the vicinity of Smeltzer were threatened with fire by an Edison company lead wire carrying 10,000 volts, falling across two of the distributing lines of the Smeltzer Telephone Exchange. Stockton was 57 years of age. His body is at Smith and Tutill's and an inquest is to be held at 4 o'clock this afternoon. He leaves a wife, three daughters and two sons. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

The trouble on the telephone lines developed between 9 and 10 o'clock. Stockton tore the wires from the telephone at his home and then got into his car and drove a quarter of a mile to the home of his brother-in-law to warn the family. Blaylock was in bed. Stockton found the instrument at the Blaylock home on fire and broke the connection. He talked to Blaylock and members of the family for ten or fifteen minutes and then started to return home. Stepping outside he noticed the telephone wire against the outside of the residence. Blaylock, in his night clothes, followed him to the door.

Seizes Live Wire
"I guess I had better pull the wire loose from the building," said Stockton to Blaylock. He stepped up to the house to pull the wire and the instant he touched it he uttered a scream and dropped to the ground. Blaylock went to his assistance and succeeded in pulling him loose from the gripping wire. Blaylock received a slight shock.

Stockton made the mistake of taking hold of the wire while standing on ground that was damp. In pulling the wires from the phone at his home and at the home of his brother-in-law, he had stood on dry linoleum and did not sustain shocks.

It is miraculous that Blaylock was not killed when he took hold of Stockton to pull him loose from the wire. Had he been killed the chances are that other members of the family would have attempted rescue and each might have been killed as the attempt was made.

R. L. Draper was summoned and when he learned of the situation his first thought was as to whether Frank

Millions Will Be Paid By Banks; Buy War Stamps Is Urged

Meeting at Oxnard Puts the Estimate at 550,000 Bags of Limas

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 15.—The United States Government will pay out more than $6,000,000 today in semi-annual interest to holders of Third Liberty Loan Bonds in the Twelfth Federal Reserve District. Today's interest payment, added to the two previous interest installments paid on Third Loan Bonds by the Government, gives a total of nearly $18,000,000 earned since May, 1918, by the $287,975,000 invested by 1,402,584 purchasers of bonds of the Third Loan in this Federal Reserve District.

"Be sure and clip your coupons and cash them," is the advice broadcasted to holders of the Third Loan Bonds by Robert E. Smith, director of the War Loan Organization of the Twelfth Federal Reserve District. "Coupons uncashed are idle money. It is no trouble to cash your coupons. Just clip the September 15 coupon off and present it at any bank and you will get your money. It is no more trouble than getting change for a bill."

If all bondholders in America cash their coupons today there will be in circulation tomorrow nearly $85,000,000 more money than was in circulation yesterday. That is approximately the total amount of interest to be paid out on the Third Loan as a whole today.

"Here is a chance for the people to hit high prices a hard blow," said Director Smith. "Every man, woman and child who owns a Third Loan Bond should cash the coupon and immediately buy Thrift or War Savings Certificates which bear more interest than the bonds. Investment of the Third Loan Bond interest at the bank window immediately upon cashing the coupons will keep that $85,000,000 out of circulation and thus help keep prices down."

"I cannot urge too strongly the wisdom of letting the Government keep this interest money and, not only that, but continued buying of War Savings Stamps out of every pay envelope. If everyone in the United States would set aside something each week for War Savings Stamps earning them four per cent interest compounded every three months, it would be a very short time until there would be a noticeable drop in prices."

ADVISES COATS

BE SELECTED

CAREFULLY

The first problem of the Fall is not whether or not you will have a coat, but what style of coat you will choose. A wrap of some sort is an absolute necessity, especially one of a smart, sober style, which will enable you to wear any type of dress that you choose, from simplest chemise morning frock to the silk dress that you wear for luncheon or tea. A coat that covers so wide a field must be carefully chosen, and it is its material really that gives it its versatility. For example, a coat of fur cloth, duvetyn, wool velours, camel's-hair cloaking or broadcloth would be correct and acceptable at any time of the day, where a coat of cloaking satin or plush would belong distinctly to your elegant leisure. Checks, tweeds and mixtures, which are excellent for hacking, motoring and so forth, are limited to that one special type of usefulness.

Duvetyn is the most popular of the Winter cloak fabrics. Camel's-hair cloaking is the newest or rather the latest revival, while satin and plush are the most elegant. In many cases the fur fabrics are more satisfactory than the real fur, because they are lighter in weight. They come in splendid copies of chinchilla, gray rabbit, seal plush, beaver, mole plush, caracul and astrakhan, all of which are splendid for the type of coat and also for the short coat wrap which is newer than the long coat and has certain advantages as well as certain limitations. The coat wrap is really a more comfortable coat for walking, for it is lighter and gives you greater freedom. On the other hand, it does not cover you up completely, which is one of the advantages of the long coat. The wrap coat is in kimono style, cut wide under the arm, which gives it the graceful, draped effect. The long coats are cut on very simple lines. All of them have big collars, in some cases very much draped. They all have narrow belts, either of the coat material or of leather. Most of them completely cover the dress, but can be made three or four inches shorter if you prefer.

One of the coats that originated in Paris shows the new Parisian fondness for English things. It is an ulster-like coat with a half-length cape, and is very smart. The deep 1850 yoke with the crown collar makes quite a distinctive coat, and one that is especially becoming to slender women. The simplicity of the present styles is due largely to the fact that materials are very scarce and dear in France and the French designers are therefore cutting them up as little as possible.

DAMAGE SUIT

Street Sweepers Testify In Action Growing Out of Accident

A discussion as to whether Main street at Huntington Beach runs east and west or north and south was one of the features of the trial before Superior Judge West in the Superior court today of the action brought by Peter Ringville, a street sweeper, against H. W. Johnson, for $2500 damages, as the result of an accident at the beach city.

The defendant, an elderly man, came into court leaning on a crutch. He was assisted to his seat by the bailiff.

Testimony in broken English was given by Ringville, who is a Swede. He said that at the time of the alleged accident, which is said to have occurred on May 17 of last year, he was knocked down by an automobile. The plaintiff said that his back was turned at the time he was struck and he did not know until later who drove the car which knocked him down.

The discussion as to the direction in which Main street runs was participated in by Judge West, who stated that he was under the impression that the street ran east and west. The point was finally settled largely by statements from Ringville, who said he knew the street ran north and south because the North star rose every night at one end of it. He also carried a compass, he said.

Dr. F. E. Wilson of Huntington Beach gave testimony as to the extent of Ringville's injuries. John L. Kearney, claim adjuster for the State Compensation Insurance Fund, plaintiff in another damage action brought against Johnson, testified that he paid the compensation growing out of the accident to Ringville.

F. M. Brumton, another street sweeper, took the stand and testified that he was working within eleven feet of Ringville at the time the latter was run into. Both had their backs turned to Johnson's automobile as it approached, he said.

This afternoon F. A. Grate was on the stand. He testified that he was on an oil wagon on North Main street, a short distance north of the intersection of Main street and Ocean avenue, when the accident occurred. He said that he witnessed the accident.

Attorneys Scarborough and Forsy are representing Ringville. Eden and Koepsel are attorneys for the defendant.

19 TO TESTIFY AT

SNELLGROVE'S TRIAL

Nineteen character witnesses, summoned at the request of Clyde Bishop, defense attorney for A. Snellgrove, automobile repairman of Ramona Acres, Los Angeles county, who is charged with a criminal offense against Lillian Doyasbere of this city, were today being served with summonses to appear in the superior court tomorrow in readiness to testify at Snellgrove's trial.

Most of the witnesses reside in Los Angeles county, it is stated.

A special venire of twenty prospective jurors was issued today by the county clerk.

Snellgrove is in the county jail in default of $10,000 bail. His preliminary examination was held on August 10th.

The charges were brought by Mrs. Camille Methivier, mother of Lillian Doyasbere. The girl is 14 years of age.

SELECT TABLE LINEN

BY WEIGHT, FINENESS

Table linen should be chosen by weight as well as by fineness of thread. Irish linen is the ideal choice for company use, if one can afford it. Scotch linen is also very fine, and less expensive as a rule.

Table cloths may be purchased by the yard or in pattern lengths. Pattern lengths are, of course, the more desirable, as well as the more expensive, as in these the pattern and border designs are continuous. Instead of being broken by cuttings—as in the case of linen bought by the yard. In general, cloths with small designs and in the ordinary finish wear better than those with large designs or with the fancy satin figures and stripes preferred by some housewives.

For ordinary use, tablecloths of plain linen with only a simple center design, or those with a good all-over pattern, are very serviceable as well as tasteful.

Many housekeepers whose dining tables are round, use round tablecloths. But it is better to use a cloth with a circular design in the center than to use a round cloth for the reason that after a few launderings a round cloth is apt to stretch out of shape and lose its original circular perfection.

Napkins should match the tablecloth. These come from 14 to 31 inches in size, the size chosen depending upon the use for which they are intended.

Goes To Salinas to

Claim Auto In

Which Bandits Fled

BEARING a letter from Sheriff C. E. Jackson to the sheriff at Salinas, California, Emil Wetzel, son of Rudolph Wetzel of Fullerton, today departed for the northern city to claim the Chevrolet automobile in which three men fled from La Habra, after robbing the elder Wetzel.

One of the three men who robbed Wetzel was James C. Montgomery, it is believed by Sheriff Jackson. Montgomery was arrested Saturday at Santa Monica on a charge of complicity in the robbery of Dr. Y. W. Yates of Pacific Grove at Salinas. This robbery is said to have been committed under circumstances similar to those occurring at the time Wetzel was robbed. Three men, two of them in sailor's uniforms, bound and gagged Wetzel after he had given them a ride in his automobile. After robbing him, they left him lying by the side of the road and fled in the machine which the younger Wetzel will bring back from Salinas.

Montgomery was implicated in the robbery of Dr. Yates by the alleged confession by another man now under arrest. His arrest at Santa Monica followed his escape from officers at Salinas last week.

HELPFUL HINTS ON

HOME DECORATING

"Whatever else you do, don't put furniture in the corners," is the wise advice given by a decorator who has had unusual success in the decorating and furnishing of small and medium sized rooms.

Nothing limits a room—cramps and contracts it—so much as occupied corners. With the boundary lines of the room broken or obscured, any suggestion of distance or spaciousness, is lost. Many rooms are actually distorted in appearance when a piece of furniture is placed in a corner.

Of course if the room is irregular in shape, a well-placed curved davenport may correct an awkward line or a desk with a suitable chair near by may be used to good advantage, but these are exceptions that prove the rule.

The average room, unless unusually sparsely furnished—and precious few are—has a tendency to be cramped in appearance, especially those with low ceilings. In well over half the cases clearing every corner so a line from floor to ceiling is visible remedies the defect to a surprising extent.

Very few pieces of furniture were ever designed to stand in corners, and most of these were originally planned for the corners of very large rooms. A corner cupboard in a small room is a big mistake. So is a grandfather's clock in the corner of a small room, or grand piano—even a baby one. These interesting articles require a room of dignified dimensions or they will appear "out of place" and the room itself warped and unsymmetrical.

Even if there is room to keep a book case or chest of drawers only a foot away from a corner the effect will be better than if the end of the piece be crowded up in the corner, close to the two walls.

Experiment with the furniture—try grouping pieces that naturally belong together. See if clear corners aren't possible. They are bound to give a suggestion of spaciousness—a restful, orderly atmosphere that in any room is refreshing.—From the New York Sun.

Watch for Bands

on Buck Killed

SAN FRANCISCO, September 15.—"Watch for bands when you kill a duck this year" is the request state and federal game authorities are making of sportsmen.

To determine flight lanes of the migratory game birds, hundreds of ducks have been trapped and bands placed on their legs telling when and where they were captured. The birds were then liberated.

Persons killing such ducks are asked to notify the State Fish and Game Commission as to the band markings and the place the ducks were killed.

Judgment Is Suspended One Year In Case of Woman Jailed at S. F.

Brought before Superior Judge Williams today, Mrs. Florence Musser, who had pleaded guilty to a charge of bigamy in connection with marrying John Carter, of San Francisco, in this city on July 24, was granted probation.

Pronouncing of judgment was suspended by Judge Williams for one year, during which time Mrs. Musser is to live at the True Love home in Los Angeles. While living at the home, Mrs. Musser may receive visits from friends at the home, under rules as obtaining at the institution, but she is not to see Carter.

September 24 is the date upon which Carter is to be tried in Department 2 of the superior court on a charge of knowingly marrying a person already married.

Just prior to leaving the court room today, Mrs. Musser said:

Asks to See Carter

"I would like to ask the court one question. May I see Carter before I leave for the home in Los Angeles?"

The court replied that that question was one with which the district attorney's office would have to deal. Deputy District Attorney William F. Menton today stated that he was undecided as to whether he would permit a final meeting between the couple tomorrow morning before Mrs. Musser is taken to Los Angeles.

After Judge Williams had informed Mrs. Musser of the terms of her probation, he said:

"I think, Mrs. Musser, that you have been a very foolish and silly girl."

"I think so, too," Mrs. Musser answered.

Referring to Mrs. Musser's relatives, who Judge Williams said, had been caused much grief as a result of Mrs. Musser's action, the court remarked:

"I think if you had always followed your mother's advice you would not

TOTAL ECLIPSE

OF SUN COMING

SEPT., 1923

Advance Information Concerning Event Is Given

By Scientists

On September 10, 1923, Santa Ana and all of Southern California will be privileged to witness a total eclipse of the sun. The central point of the shadow path on the Pacific coast will fall about seven miles southeast of

San Diego, at Todos Santos bay, Mexico. Already astronomers are making plans for establishing observing stations to record scientific observations of the phenomenon in Lower California.

Prof. W. W. Campbell of the Lick observatory on Mount Hamilton, in a letter to a San Diego friend, published in the San Diego Union, gives advance information of the total obscuration of the sun:

"As the heavenly phenomena have a reputation for arriving exactly on time, it is confidently predicted many visitors from other parts of the country will have an opportunity to witness the moon's passage across the face of the sun. This prediction is made with all the more confidence

since the weather bureau's statistics of sunshine make it probable that the day will be clear.

"Professor Campbell's letter to Dr.

Mead follows:

"I wonder if you know that San Diego is to have a total solar eclipse on September 10, 1923, only four years from now. The path of totality passes southeasterly across Mexico, the central point of the shadow path on the west coast falling at Todos Santos bay, some 75 miles southeast of San Diego. However, the shadow path is wide enough to include San Diego well within its northern edge.

"The computations made by the staff of the American Nautical Almanac, under the auspices of the U.

S. naval observatory, fixes the time of the beginning of the total phase for

San Diego at 12:57.6 and the end of the total phase at 1:00.3; that is, the total eclipse will last about two minutes 40 seconds. The moon will partially cover the sun during an hour or more preceding the total phase and an hour or more following the total phase.

"The phases of partial eclipse are not interesting, but a total eclipse is an exceedingly attractive natural phenomenon, in which the people of San Diego and vicinity will experience great pleasure, clear skies permitting observation. The times which I have quoted are Pacific standard time, eight hours lower than Greenwich mean time.

"It is possible that some astronomical expeditions will be located at or near San Diego, but this is not certain, because there are important advantages in locating the observing stations near the central line of totality.

The Lick observatory is considering carefully the merits of an observing station or stations in Lower California, southeasterly from Todos Santos bay and Ensenada.

"If the unfortunate political disturbances no longer exist in Mexico in 1923 there will doubtless be many astronomical expeditions to the path of totality in central Mexico.

"I think the people of your city and vicinity will be interested to learn of these facts and you are at full liberty to furnish them to your newspapers."

MOVEMENT TO SUPPLY

HOUSES PROGRESSING

FULLERTON, Sept. 15.—The most popular movement which has been inaugurated in Fullerton in recent years is the proposition to construct apartment houses or bungalow courts or both, to care for the housing, not only of the people that are here now, but those who want to come.

The committee which has the matter of securing subscriptions in charge, owing to other business, cannot give their full time to the work, but so far as they have gone they have done fine, with the result that approximately eight hundred subscriptions have been secured.

The Woman's Union will hold a Rally and of course there will be refreshments. Each lady will be permitted to contribute a dime to cover costs of refreshments. A special welcome

Airplane Landing to

Be Provided on Roof

Of Sacramento Store

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 15.—An airplane landing station on the roof is provided for in plans just completed for a new twelve-story department store to be erected at Sixth and K streets in Sacramento.

In the opinion of L. F. Breuner, who is to have the big building constructed on the site of his present store, the time is not far distant when miliary will go a-shopping via airplane and he predicts that before long there will be such marked improvements in the construction and control of aircraft that it will be an easy matter for machines to land on the top of a downtown store.

Breuner has sufficient confidence in his belief to provide for an expenditure of about $50,000 for the estab-

J. T. Stockton Is Killed at

Smeltzer By Seizing

Service Wire

Houser, night operator at the exchange, had been killed. He rushed over to the exchange to find that the young man had escaped injury, but had sustained a light shock.

In the meantime, Draper's house had caught fire around the phone and

Russell Alfred rushed into the house and with his bear hands broke the connection.

Fire Threatens Houses

The lines of the Smeltzer exchange affected by the live wire of the Edison company were Nos. 16 and 33 and every instrument on them was put out of commission with the houses where the instruments were located threatened by fire and the occupants with death. Had any of those who severed the wire connections happened to have stood on anything that will conduct electricity, there would have been more than one electrocution.

The lead wire of the electric company carried 10,000 volts. It fell on the telephone wires between the homes of Stockton and R. L. Draper.

Among the homes threatened were those of James McMullen, W. G. Alfred, a Jap by the name of Ogita, R.

L. Draper, Joe Culver, Mr. Cade, W.

T. Vandruft, J. T. Stockton and W. W.

Playlock.

The switchboard at the Smeltzer exchange was damaged some, the juice jumping from one key to another after the fuse had burned out, the current being strong enough to jump from position to position. Workmen are expected to have the switch damage repaired today and some of their phones

in service immediately.

In County 21 Years

Stockton came to this section about twenty-one years ago from Arkansas, and has since been engaged in farming operations. His three daughters are Mrs. Hugo Lamb of Talbert, Mrs.

Elbert Porter of Glendora and Miss

Eunice Stockton, who is at Berkeley.

The sons are Everett, 30 years, and Maurice, 11, who reside at home. Mrs.

Stockton is a sister of Mrs. U. G. Lit-tell of this city.

The electrocution of Mr. Stockton is another example of the necessity of educating people as to what they should do under circumstances that led to his death," today declared the physician who was called last night.

"It is something that should be taken up in every school and the children made familiar with the danger

there is in handling wires that carry heavy voltages. They should be taught what are conductors and what are non-conductors of electricity.

"Stockton had stood on dry lineoleum when breaking the connections in his home and that of his brother-in-law and was not injured in these operations. When he grabbed the wire outside of the building he was standing on the ground—and ground that was damp at that."

made, place the value of the Pomona plants in this city. A considerable quantity of fruit was shipped out. A sufficient amount has been shipped to the canneries to indicate that the total will be between 4500 and 5000 tons.

AMERICA

TO WORK!

Commerce and industry and farm—clear the decks for action!

The world needs replenishment. It is stripped; it is hungry.

Europe's cupboard is barren. Our agriculture has had to feed the world for four years, and there still are depleted store-houses to fill and hungry people to feed. Here is Orange County's great obligation and splendid opportunity.

The unrestricted labor of the farmer saved the world in time of peril. His was a rich reward. If the workers in commerce and industry now put the same effort into increased production, another crisis will be surmounted, and the prosperity ensuing will be felt in all the channels of life.

With its foundations sound—with farmer and workingman exerting all effort for increased production—America is ready for its greatest stride.

This is our greeting, invitation and challenge to the productive and constructive forces of Orange County.

TOBACCO HABIT

—DANGEROUS—

says Doctor Connor, formerly of Johns

Hopkins hospital. Thousands of men suffering from fatal diseases would be in perfect health today were it not for the deadly drug of Nicotine. Stop the habit now before it's too late. It's a simple process to rid yourself of the tobacco habit in any form. Just go to any up-to-date drug store and get some Nicotol tablets; take them as directed and lo!

the pernicious habit quickly vanishes.

Be sure to read large and interesting anouncement by Doctor Connor soon to appear in this paper. It tells of the danger of nicotine poisoning and how to avoid it. In the meantime try Nicotol tablets; you will be surprised at the result.
